CIO HARVESTER STRIKERS VOTE RETURN TO JOBS

Start Work Today; Hearing Set.

Fifteen hundred striking CIO workers of the tractor and McCormick works of the International Harvester company voted yesterday to end their strike and to go back to work today. Their decision was to be followed by strikers at the company's plants at Rock Falls, Ill., and Richmond, Ind.

Differences between the company and the Farm Equipment Workers Organizing committee of the CIO are to be submitted to the National Defense Mediation board in Washington, D. C., this morning. The strikers' decision, heeding a request of the mediation board that they return to work pending the hearing, was reached in a meeting at 333 South Ashland boulevard.

Delay at Tractor Works.

Harvester company officials said all strikers could be reëmployed this morning at the McCormick works. At the tractor works a few hundred will start work today and by the end of the week it is expected all 6,500 employés will be back.

The strikers intend to give one final demonstration, their leaders announced. The parade, arranged for this morning from their headquarters at 23d street and Western avenue, around the Harvester plants, was not called off.

Delegations Go to Capital.

A delegation of five representatives of the two CIO unions involved was named to leave yesterday afternoon for Washington, and they said they would be on hand when the mediation board starts its hearing at 10 o'clock today. The Harvester company sent two of its lawyers, two of its industrial relations officials, and Fowler McCormick, vice president, to present its views. The American Federation of Labor will be represented by two officials.

The strike began at the tractor works Jan. 29 and at the McCormick plant Feb. 28.

SERVICE ALLIS TOOLS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., March 30.—Approximately 300 production employés were at work here today in the plant of the Allis Chalmers Manufacturing company where the CIO United Automobile Workers union called a strike 68 days ago, officials of the company said. The plant has government orders of 45 million dollars.

The company expects to resume general operation tomorrow, officials said, and looks for an increase in the total of 3,169 men they said are at work.

Allis officials said no attempt was made at general production work today and that the men were engaged mainly in keeping in operation special large tools which lose efficiency and pile up operating costs if work is interrupted.

A test of the company's ability to operate is expected to come tomorrow. Strikers at a meeting yesterday voted not to return to work until the Office of Production Management gave assurances that it would force the company to grant union security, according to strike leaders.

STEEL WORKERS PARADE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Johnstown, Pa., March 30.—Two thousand members of the Steel Workers' Organizing committee paraded jubilantly thru the streets here today in celebration of the peaceful settlement of the two day strike at the Bethlehem Steel company plant here.

Union members ratified the terms of the early morning settlement and all 15,000 workers were scheduled to go back into the plant tomorrow morning. The CIO walkout tied up production on part of 1 billion 195 million dollars armament orders way in the steel company's plants.

The strike was settled on identical terms that ended the walkout at the Bethlehem plant at Bethlehem. Chief of these terms are that the company will continue to deal with the SWOC as the collective bargaining agency for its members; selection of an exclusive bargaining agency shall await final disposition of the case pending in court. [This case concerns the Employés Representation Plan, which the union holds is a company dominated organization, but which the company insists is an independent union.]

U. S. SHIELDS 25 SLATED TO FACE HARRY BRIDGES

San Francisco, Cal., March 30.—[Special].—Federal prosecutors today persisted in guarding the identities of "more than 25" witnesses who will testify against Harry Bridges, west coast labor leader, at his second deportation hearing opening here tomorrow.

"We don't propose to have any tampering with them," declared Maj. Lemuel B. Schofield, director of the immigration and naturalization service, who arrived from Washington to assist in the renewed attempt to return the alien Bridges to his native Australia.

SPRING? SURE IS! GYPSIES ARE BACK

Sheriffs Issue Warning on Perennial Creeper.

Spring has come. With it, the Illinois Sheriffs' association said yesterday, will come the crocuses, the violets—and the gypsies.

Well, the sheriffs said, enjoy the flowers. But beware the gypsies.

"The gypsies who are beginning their annual trek into the state," said Sheriff E. J. [Mike] Welter of La Salle county, "are merciless thieves."

Hundreds of Farmers Swindled.

Sheriff Welter, first vice president of the association, had more to say about the gypsies:

"During 1940, hundreds of farmers, their wives, and their children were swindled and robbed by gypsies, according to the Illinois Bureau of Rural Crime Prevention. Seventeen swindles of magnitude amounted to $11,325.

"These gypsies no longer travel in wagons, with horses and dogs. They scour the country in large, expensive automobiles, bought with stolen money.

Fortune Telling Paves Way.

"Avoiding main highways, they frequent back roads. They set up booths at county fairs and similar gatherings and pretend to tell fortunes. In this way they learn the financial status of the farmers.

"Later, arriving by subterfuge, they swindle their victims, often aged men and women from whom they steal the last penny."

So the crocuses and the violets, and spring, too, have the approval of the sheriffs, but the spring gypsies don't.

P. S.—Four gypsies plus Louis E. Swanson, 7825 Coles avenue, yesterday equaled a minus $25.

MADRID, Spain, March 30.—In an effort to check typhus, several cases of which have been reported, the governor of Madrid today banished beggars from the streets, shopkeepers who allow them to stand outside their premises, transit employés who permit them to ride, and any one who gives them alms will be liable to fines.

BERLIN, March 30 (AP).—A man convicted of stealing chickens during a blackout has been sentenced to six years in prison. Authorities said the man escaped the death penalty only because there wasn't an air raid at the time of the theft.

Illinois Cavalry Unit Lacks Gear for Training Program

BY CLAY GOWRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Camp Livingston, La., March 30.—Almost a million dollars worth of horses, weapons, motorcycles and armored scout cars make the 106th cavalry, Illinois National Guard, now in federal service in this Louisiana camp, one of the best equipped regiments in the expanding army of the United States.

But even this regiment, altho far better equipped than a majority of the National Guard regiments which have been inducted into federal service, still lacks much vital gear. This despite the fact that it has been in training for almost three months and in federal service since last Nov. 25.

Missing equipment interferes seriously with the training program planned for the Illinois regiment. For instance, the 106th has all 64 of the scout cars it is supposed to have, but only nine of these are equipped with radio. Thus large scale radio communication practice is impossible.

No Tractors to Pull Trailers.

The regiment has 77 large eight horse trailers for transporting its horse squadron on long range maneuvers. But it has no tractors to pull the trailers, so they cannot be used.

Army tables of organization show that the cavalry regiment should be equipped with 114 solo motorcycles and 61 motorcycles with side cars. The 106th has 21 solos and 11 with side cars.

Lieut. Col. Charles R. Johnson, regular army commander of the regiment, said today that he has been informed that the missing machines are in the process of being shipped.

The 106th has only 390 of the 556 horses it should have, altho more are coming in each week from army remount stations. None of the pack radios, which are to be carried with the horse squadrons to keep them in touch with regimental headquarters, has arrived.

Acute Shortage in Guns.

Like most other regiments, the most serious shortage with which the 106th has to contend is in the armament field. It has only 50 of the .50 caliber machine guns, whereas it should have 99. Instead of 246 machine guns of .30 caliber, it has 150. Instead of 243 Thompson submachine guns, it has 125. Instead of 532 Garand rifles, it has 100.

Because of this shortage in ordnance, not all of the scout cars can carry their full complement of weapons. Each of these armored giants, which weigh almost six tons stripped of their weapons and crew, should be fitted with one .50 caliber machine gun for antitank protection, two .30 caliber machine guns for general use, and one Thompson submachine gun.

Motorcycle soldiers of the regiment's 2d or mechanized squadron each should have a submachine gun, slung in a scabbard from his handle bars. They have only world war rifles.

More for Europe

Aboard Roosevelt train en route to Fort Jackson, S. C., March 30 (AP).—President Roosevelt has authorized the movement of additional implements of war to countries battling an "alliance of dictator nations" and was returning to Washington tonight.

The chief executive was disclosed on high authority to have taken additional steps to arm Britain and Greece and to be planning quick action upon his return to the capital to put to work immediately a major portion of a 7 billion dollar appropriation to convert America into an arsenal for foes of the axis powers.

What specific new weapons actually are on the way across the Atlantic was a military secret.

REINFORCE SINGAPORE

SINGAPORE, Straits Settlements, March 30 (AP)—Crack fighter pilots from the battle of Britain and veterans of the campaign in France have reached this British far eastern stronghold to reënforce its already strengthened defenses, it was officially disclosed today.

Arrival of veteran units of the British and Indian armies and the royal air force was announced by Air Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, Britain's commander in chief in the far east. He declared it was a cause of satisfaction that the situation in other war theaters was so favorable that Britain not only was able to spare forces from the United Kingdom but could transport them such a distance despite the axis' sea and air warfare.

Australian Force There.

Singapore's defense already had been raised to unprecedentedly formidable proportions, Australian forces having arrived on Feb. 18.

[The United States navy is rushing preparations for a possible collision with Japan, if the Tokio government orders an attack upon British Singapore, it became known last night in Washington, D. C. Details on page 2.]

The air reënforcement was the first to arrive from the home front in England since the outbreak of the war. Land forces included infantry, artillery, and mechanized units equipped with the latest weapons perfected on the battlefields of Flanders and Africa, the announcement said.

GERMAN, DANISH, ITALIAN CRAFT ARE TAKEN OVER

Coast Guard Finds Much Sabotage.

Washington, D. C., March 30 (AP).—The government took over all Italian, German, and immobilized Danish ships in American territorial waters today—65 vessels in all—after the naval intelligence service uncovered a systematic plot to sabotage the 28 craft flying the Italian flag.

Herbert Gaston. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

Officials said 20 of the Italian ships had been quietly "put completely out of business" by their crews. The two German and at least 35 Danish vessels were taken over along with the Italian ships to guard against similar acts by their crews.

The initial action was taken against the Italian vessels late last night and early today. The Danish ships were being taken over tonight—15 in New York harbor, eight in Baltimore, Md., three in Boston, Mass., two each in Philadelphia, Pa., and Norfolk, Va., and Los Angeles, Cal., and one each at Jacksonville, Fla., Portland, Me., and Grays Harbor, Wash. No action was taken against several Danish ships which are in service out of American ports.

Hoist American Flags.

Coast guardsmen boarded the vessels, hauled down their colors, and hoisted the Stars and Stripes in some cases, and removed the regular crews.

The Italian skipper of one of the ships, the 6,113 ton freighter Mongioia at Houston, Tex., disclosed that orders to destroy his engines had come to him from the Italian naval attaché in Washington. The latter, along with other officials at the Italian and German embassies, refused to make any comment.

Coast guardsmen encountered "some resistance" in boarding the 6,458 ton Italian vessel Confidenza at Jacksonville, headquarters here disclosed, but no details were given. When coast guardsmen later went to board the German freighter Arauca at Port Everglades, Fla., a machine gun was taken along.

Docked in Many Ports.

The other German ship taken into custody was the tanker Pauline Friederich, at Boston, Mass. The Italian ships were at 13 ports on the east and west coasts, at Cristobal, Canal Zone, and at San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The assumption of custody over the ships was described by Herbert Gaston, assistant secretary of the treasury, as a "purely protective" action. It was taken, however, under a world war statute which provides that a vessel sabotaged by its own crew in an American port may be declared forfeited to this country.

However, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, a leading noninterventionist, declared: "We have no right to seize those ships. This is another act of war."

President Is Informed.

The first word that some of the Italian ships had been sabotaged was delivered to the treasury yesterday afternoon by the navy's intelligence division. The information was laid before President Roosevelt at Port Everglades, and with his approval coast guardsmen were sent to take over the ships.

Gaston said "wholesale sabotage" was found. At least 20 of the Italian ships had been damaged, he said, adding that apparently the sabotage had been concerted and simultaneous.

Details were lacking on the number of crew members taken into custody but Gaston estimated that most of the ships were manned by 25 to 50 men. The crews, he said, would be turned over to immigration authorities. At Cristobal, 505 officers and men were removed from the 23,000 ton liner Conte Biancamano. Most of the other vessels were small freighters.

Much Damage Done.

Reciting instances of damage, Gaston said that the machinery of one vessel at Norfolk, Va., had been torn down. One crew in Norfolk was caught starting a fire under a dry boiler.

HUTCHINS TELLS WHAT WE LOSE IF WE GO TO WAR

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

The American people are even more overwhelmingly against our entrance into the war than they were a year ago, Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, asserted yesterday at the regular Sunday morning service in Rockefeller Memorial chapel on the university campus. The address was broadcast over W-G-N and the coast to coast network of the Mutual Broadcasting system.

[Senators Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.) and Gerald P. Nye (R., N. D.) made speeches warning against America's entry into the European war. Story on page 3.]

Dr. Hutchins' speech was his second warning to the nation against "suicide" by drifting into war. Shortly before the passage of the so-called lease-lend bill he broke his eight years' silence on other than educational subjects to appeal for the bill's defeat. Yesterday's address was entitled, "The Proposition Is Peace."

Power Not Yet Lost.

Passage of the lend-lease bill, he asserted yesterday, conferred no mandate upon President Roosevelt to take this country into war. But he pointed out that the President now calls for "total victory" over "the enemy." In view of the President's repeated pledges to keep out of war, perhaps these remarks were for foreign consumption, Dr. Hutchins assumed.

We stand on the brink of war, but we have not lost the power to decide against it, he said. There is time for a last "look around" before we plunge into the abyss.

If President Roosevelt believes that the people want war, he is mistaken, Dr. Hutchins said. The election did not give the people a chance to express themselves on the issue, because both parties' Presidential candidates declared for peace, he told his hearers.

Cites Showing by Poll.

The Gallup poll showed 10 days ago that 83 per cent of the people would vote to stay out of the war—a higher percentage than a year ago. On the other hand, if the President's most recent words are accepted at their face value we should fight now, Dr. Hutchins said.

There is no basis for hoping that the axis will go down in total defeat without complete American participation in the conflict, he warned.

"The country wants to defend itself, aid Britain, and stay out of war," Dr. Hutchins said. "We have been told over and over again that we could do just that.

No Mandate for War.

"During the hearings and debates on the lease-lend bill, man after man announced that this was a bill to keep the country out of war. Mr. Willkie said that was why he was for it. Senator George, who led the fight for the bill, said that was why he was for it.

"The passage of this bill gave the President no mandate for war. The people want peace.

"If we go to war, what are we going to war for? Mr. Roosevelt tells us we are to save 'the democracies.' The democracies are, presumably, England, China, Greece, and possibly Turkey.

Lists the Dictatorships.

"Turkey is a dictatorship. Greece is a dictatorship. China is a dictatorship. As to England, in 1928 Mr. Anthony Eden, now foreign secretary, speaking in behalf of a bill extending the suffrage, felt it necessary to say to the house of commons, 'We have not got democratic government in this country today; we never have had it and I venture to suggest to the members opposite that we shall never have it. What we have done, in all the progress of reform and evolution of politics, is to broaden the basis of our oligarchy.'

"There can be no doubt that the people of this country prefer the government of Britain to the government of its allies or its enemies. Britain is a constitutional state and has been the inspiration of many constitutional states. We prefer the governments of China, Greece, and Turkey to those of the axis.

What Is Russia's Place?

"But we cannot use the word democracy to describe every country that is or may be at war with the axis. If Russia is attacked by Ger-

BRITISH FLEET SINKS 5 ITALIAN SHIPS IN BATTLE

Victims Include 3 10,000 Ton Cruisers.

LONDON, March 30 (AP).—Britain's Mediterranean fleet sank at least five—and perhaps six—more warships of Premier Mussolini's battered Italian navy during the week-end for the greatest sea victory of the war, the admiralty announced today.

Indications that the final count of Britain's triumph over the Fascist fleet which repeatedly refused a dare to come out and fight might be higher came from Greece, where survivors were landed from a destroyer not mentioned in the admiralty communique.

The admiralty claimed the sinking of three 10,000 ton Italian cruisers—the sister ships Fiume, Pola, and Zara—and two destroyers, the 1,729 ton Vincenzo Gioberti, and the 1,449 ton Maestrale.

Survivors of the three cruisers reached Piraeus, port of Athens, Greece, along with those saved from what Greek reports said was the destroyer Alfieri. The Alfieri—if identified correctly—is a sister ship of the Gioberti, and of the same tonnage.

Sweep Thru Mediterranean.

Britain's naval high command gave only the barest details of the great sea and air battle which swept the eastern Mediterranean from Friday until today. But, calling the sinkings all that have been confirmed "so far," it hinted that the total reckoning may climb still higher.

Fragmentary British air and naval bulletins on Saturday had listed a battleship of Italy's big, new 35,000 ton Littorio class among the men-o'-war damaged in the battle.

Just where or how the Italian ships were sunk, the communique did not tell. But according to its account, not one British sailor was wounded.

"No casualties or damage were sustained by his majesty's ships thruout the recent operations," the communique said and Britain's only cost was two warplanes "not yet accounted for."

Surprised at Ease of Victory.

Admiralty officials said they were astonished at the low price Admiral Sir Andrew B. Cunningham's forces had to pay for slicing three more first line fighting ships from Italy's already badly dented sea forces and could not recall when such a feat ever had been accomplished before.

British sources figured that the latest sea blow to Italy leaves her navy with only two or four undamaged battleships—depending on whether the two newest of the Littorio class have been commissioned.

These are the Roma and Impero, which were laid down in 1938, almost four years after the Littorio and Vittorio Veneto, first two of the class which already have been in service.

Started with Eight Battleships.

Italy started the war with eight battleships, including four of the older and smaller Cavour class and the four in the Littorio class, counting the two which had not then been completed.

Loss of three more cruisers, according to these sources, cut Italy's prewar total of 19 to 13. The Italians also are said to have lost 12 of a total of 127 destroyers and torpedo boats and it is said here that more than 20 of Italy's submarines have been sunk.

At Taranto, big Italian naval base inside the heel of Italy, the British declared last November that their aerial torpedoes had disabled one Littorio class battleship and two of the Cavour class.

Claim "Successful" Attack.

ROME, March 30 (AP).—Strong and successful attacks by Italian and German planes on "enemy" naval forces in the eastern Mediterranean in the face of spirited resistance were announced tonight by the Italian high command.

The Fascist communique said Italian planes in the sea action hit a "light enemy cruiser" with a torpedo despite "strong aerial and anti-aircraft reaction."

The Germans, the Rome communique continued, "hit one aircraft carrier with heavy caliber bombs."

[The German high command said in Berlin that Nazi planes on Saturday afternoon "successfully attacked an English naval squadron west of Crete," scoring three direct hits on an airplane carrier. The Italian communique said on Saturday that Fascist planes hit with torpedoes a British aircraft carrier and two cruisers on Friday in the Aegean sea.]

NAVY PREPARES FOR CLASH WITH JAPAN IN PACIFIC

Moves to Defend British Stake in Singapore.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 30.—The navy, it was learned tonight, is rushing preparations for a possible collision with Japan, if the Tokio government orders an attack upon British Singapore, key to the British empire's domination of the southwestern Pacific.

For some time it has been no secret in Washington that President Roosevelt intends to swing the navy into action against Japan in the event of any move to carry out the Japanese program of expansion into the Dutch East Indies and neighboring groups of islands. A Japanese government spokesman recently outlined the Japanese need of "lebensraum" as including not only the Dutch East Indies, but America's Philippine Islands.

In order to take the Dutch East Indies, which constitute Japan's immediate objective, it would be necessary for the Japanese to capture Singapore, the Gibraltar of the southwestern Pacific.

Reënforce Pacific Outposts.

The preparations being made by the navy indicate a plan to employ America's sea forces in coöperation with the British in defense of Singapore. United States naval and air forces in Hawaii, the Philippines and Samoa are being reënforced steadily. Supplies of fuel oil and other equipment for battle use are being augmented at all Pacific bases.

In addition, two squadrons of cruisers and destroyers have been detached from the main body of the fleet at Hawaii and sent to the southwestern Pacific, within easy steaming distance of Singapore. The first public information of this move was the arrival of the squadrons, aggregating 13 warships, at New Zealand and Australian ports.

The navy department explained that the American warships had been dispatched on a "good will mission" to the British dominions in the South seas. Inasmuch as an expedition to cultivate the good will of these countries—with which the United States now is allied—is entirely superfluous, the explanation evoked only tolerant smiles.

Viewed as Hint to Japan.

The move was recognized in domestic and foreign diplomatic quarters as one connected with the journey of Japan's foreign minister, Yosuke Matsuoka, to Berlin and Rome to take counsel on Japan's future rôle in support of the axis. Mr. Roosevelt, by sending 13 warships into the southwestern Pacific, was conveying a delicate hint to Japan that it would attack Singapore at its peril.

The navy said that when the American squadrons completed their good will mission, the 13 warships would return to their base at Pearl harbor, Honolulu. The warships now have departed from New Zealand and Australia, but the navy department declines to say where they are. The department would neither confirm nor deny rumors that the warships are en route to pay another "good will" call at Batavia, Dutch East Indies, where they would be only a few hours' steaming distance from Singapore.

Hitler Urges Jap Attack.

According to Berlin reports, Hitler is seeking to convince Matsuoka that an immediate attack by Japan upon Singapore is essential to the success of the axis. The capture of Singapore would destroy British domination of the southwestern Pacific and cut the line of aid Australia and New Zealand are furnishing the British for operations in Africa and the Levant. At the same time, Japanese operations against Singapore would impel the United States to hold its entire fleet in the Pacific and deter Washington from detaching warships to convoy arms cargoes to England.

Japan, for several months, had been edging closer and closer to Singapore, now having air, sea and land forces concentrated in French Indo-China and Thailand. But the Japanese are hesitating for several reasons. They don't know what Russia might do or what the United States might do.

Also, it is going to make a lot of difference to the Japanese who wins the war in Europe. If Hitler wins, they will be sitting pretty in the orient, but if the British win the Japanese will be distinctly out of luck. They probably would be compelled to disgorge all territory occupied, including the overrun parts of China.

Matsuoka presumably received from Hitler elaborate assurances that the defeat of Britain will be consummated within a few months. As fate would have it, however, the explosion in Jugo-Slavia took place right under Matsuoka's nose while he was communing with Hitler in Berlin. The rising of the Jugo-Slavs against the Nazis, indicating a possible turning point in the war, tended to tarnish Hitler's assurances of victory.

Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.], chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said today that events in the Balkans since the arrival of Matsuoka in Berlin "have made it still more doubtful that Japan can be induced or forced into an attack upon Singapore."

Lesson from Italy.

"Japan," the senator added, "will not make the mistake made by Italy in assuming prompt end to the war and a termination altogether favorable to Germany, in view of the events of the last 30 days. It is known that the British force guarding Singapore has been augmented—probably by Australian units and possibly by those of other powers. All told, the British have a considerable and formidable force based at Singapore or at points where units could be thrown quickly to defense of the base if the Japanese should undertake operations against it.

"Japan can not lose sight of Russia and possible Russian interference if Japan should be induced to begin operations against Britain. There is nothing in the present European picture to reassure Japan."

The senator would not discuss possible action by the United States if Japan attacks Singapore.

750 IN USUAL CREW OF ITALIAN CRUISERS DESTROYED BY BRITISH

The Italian cruisers Pola, Fiume, and Zara, claimed by the British to have been sunk this week-end, were sister ships of Italy's Zara class. Except for the Gorizia, the class appeared to have been wiped out. Each of the ships carried a normal crew of 750 men and were vessels of an overall length of 599.5 feet. Each carried eight 8 inch guns. All were rated at 32 knots.

One of the Oriani class of destroyers, the 1,729 ton Vincenzo Gioberti, carried a crew of 157 and was capable of a speed of 39 knots.

The Maestrale, one of Italy's Grecale class of destroyers, was a 1,449 ton vessel with the same armaments as the Vincenzo Gioberti but with a rated speed of only 38 knots and a normal crew of 153.

To dispute British claims of damage to Italian warships in a Mediterranean battle last November, the Italian government invited newspaper men to inspect five first line Fascist ships. Among them were the Fiume and Pola, now sunk, which the Italians said were part of their fleet in the battle, and which bore no visible evidence of damage.

CANADA RAISES ITS TAX ON SUGAR A CENT A POUND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., March 30.—The government today clamped a tax of an extra cent on every pound of sugar sold in Canada. In an unprecedented action designed to thwart speculators, the tax was put into effect by Minister of Finance J. L. Ilsley without any announcement having been made. He acted under the sugar control machinery set up by the wartime prices and trade board. At his request, the board ordered all sugar refineries to advance the price a cent tomorrow. Canadian sugar consumption averages about 100 pounds a person a year. The levy will raise $11,000,000 to $12,000,000.

ALASKA PILES UP ITS GRIEVANCES AGAINST ICKES

Lists Fresh Instances of 'Dictatorship.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 30.—The Alaska legislature's memorial to President Roosevelt urging acceptance of the resignation of Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes has directed attention to the long accumulating grievances of the people of that territory against rule by Dictator Ickes, as he is known in the far north.

The secretary of the interior is vested by law with vast powers in the government of territories. He administers the overlordship of the federal government over territories. As the adviser of the President he exercises great influence in the appointment of the governor and other federal officials and in the shaping of executive orders pertaining to government of the territory.

The Alaskan legislature, in issuing the memorial, recited that Ickes had proclaimed at a press conference last fall after the November election that he intended to submit his resignation before the inauguration of President Roosevelt for this third term. The memorial suggested that the President now accept Ickes' offer.

"A Refreshing Reminder."

The President, ignoring the Alaskans' demands, commented that "this memorial is a refreshing reminder of the freedom of expression enjoyed in a democracy."

The powers of the secretary of the interior are felt particularly in Alaska because of the location in that territory of vast fisheries, numerous mines, extensive public lands, national parks, and Indian reservations, all of which are under jurisdiction of the interior department. He also controls the Alaska railroad and resettlement and other agricultural activities.

Ickes has antagonized Alaskans by objecting to legislation introduced in congress by the Alaskan delegate, Anthony J. Dimond. Ickes has blocked passage of measures to place control of fisheries under the Alaskan legislature, and to require employment of Alaskan residents in the fisheries.

Oppose Dumping of Refugees.

On the other hand, Ickes has sponsored legislation which has equally aroused Alaskan tempers. One of these measures, which was killed at the last session of congress, would have prohibited acquisition of land along the territorial coast line, except under leases granted by Ickes. He also encountered stiffened resistance when he sponsored a bill to dump foreign refugees in Alaska and require them to remain there.

More recently Ickes has tried to get an appropriation of $5,300,000 to shorten the Alaska railroad by 54 miles thru a change in the southern seaboard terminus from Seward to Passage Canal [Portage Bay].

The appropriation requested would not be half enough to complete the project, according to experts.

BRITISH ADMIRAL 'SURE OF U. S. AID' IN SHIP STRUGGLE

Says America Could Help with Convoys.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 30.—That Britain's hopes are centered on the United States in what is described here as the "Battle of the Atlantic" was evidenced today in an article by Admiral Sir R. H. Bacon. It was published in the Sunday Graphic.

After emphasizing that shipping losses which the British are suffering are "uncomfortably high," Admiral Bacon said that "there is little doubt they will remain high until we receive further protective reenforcements. But we must not be impatient. That help will come from the United States and that it will prove effective is certain."

Sees Two Ways to Help.

The writer suggested two ways in which America might give Britain immediate assistance. The first, he said, was by "lending England some of the destroyers which at present are attached to the American Atlantic fleet," despite objection in some quarters in America that such a move might tend to weaken that fleet.

The second way in which American aid might be efficacious is with convoys, the admiral said. He stressed that "it is more than probable that the temper of the people of the United States won't meekly put up with cargoes of munitions made by them and under loan to Britain being sunk in the Atlantic."

The German Reaction.

Commenting on conceivable German reaction, Admiral Bacon stated: "It is not likely that Germany will be able to resist the temptation to attack such convoys and if she does sink any of the ships or if the escort sinks any German vessels, the chances are the United States will be drawn into the war.

"We can well continue smiling until America makes up her mind to join us in our crusade. Then the tables will be turned and with the influx of vessels that will arrive we shall be able to deal effectively with our transport difficulties."

Senator Brooks to Oppose Convoys in Radio Debate

Senator Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] will speak against the American convoy of ships carrying arms to Great Britain on the Town Hall radio program at 8:35 o'clock next Thursday night. Senator Brooks will debate against Ernest W. Gibson Jr., chairman of the Committee To Defend America by Aiding the Allies. The program will originate in New York and be heard over the National Broadcasting company network. It will be heard in Chicago from station WENR.

WHEELER WARNS AGAINST ANY U. S. CONVOYING

Furnish Tools, but Not One Boy, He Urges.

Washington, D. C., March 30 [Special].—Declaring that the policy of the Roosevelt administration was leading the United States into war, Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] tonight reiterated his opposition to convoying supplies to England with American warships. He added that the American people are united for peace, and never will be united for a foreign war "even tho they be taken into the bloody conflict without their consent."

Senator Wheeler's statements were made during an American Forum of the Air discussion over the Mutual Broadcasting system network on the question: "Shall we convoy materials to Europe, if necessary?"

"Against Their Will."

"Why should we take the American people to war against their will?" Senator Wheeler demanded. "Is that the kind of democracy we talk about for Europe and Asia.

"Today we are told that ships and planes and tanks produced in America, paid for with American dollars—are useless unless the shipments are protected and defended by American warships and sailors.

"A few weeks ago Mr. Churchill [Prime Minister Winston Churchill of England] said that England wanted only tools from America. Congress made the tools available. Today when America is asked for convoys, I would say to Mr. Churchill: Congress has agreed that American taxpayers will furnish tools—but the American mothers will not furnish you sons."

"Being Nice to Us."

Asserting that the United States was being "taken in" in the international game, Senator Wheeler pointed out that "Britain is now saying nice things about us; Greece is naming streets for President Roosevelt, and China is giving valuable gifts to our emissaries—trunk loads of them."

Others who took part in the discussion were Representative Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.], who also argued against the proposition, and Representative Joseph C. Baldwin [R., N. Y.] and Maj. Gen. John F. O'Ryan, who spoke in its favor.

NYE OPENS FIRE

San Francisco, Cal., March 30 [Special].—Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] prepared today to resume his appeal to the American people to stay out of war after a dramatic address in which he said last night that it is suicide for America to join the European conflict.

Senator Nye fired the opening gun in his west coast campaign to keep the nation out of war at a massmeeting in the civic auditorium, sponsored by the San Francisco America First committee.

He charged that President Roosevelt has gone "a long way to winning the confidence of the people in the name of keeping us out of war." But, Senator Nye said, "Each legislative step that has been afforded at his request has been considered by him, seemingly, as a license to go even further than he had proposed, or than the law itself proposed, in dealing with the nations at war."

Wants People to Decide.

The senator begged Americans to force congress to submit any proposal to go to war to the people.

The North Dakota senator ridiculed the war group's bogey—the fear that America will be invaded.

"This fear," he said, "has been denied by every man of consequence. "There isn't a chance of such conquest, come what will in Europe, if only we will confine ourselves to providing a reasonable modern defense—a defense rather easily attainable."

Senator Nye urged that the American people take a united stand against convoying ships to Great Britain, and against sending the American navy to the far corners of the world where American defense is not involved.

"Growing Public Protest."

"With the large grant of power that was extended to the President in the lease-lend [dictator] bill," he asked, "and in the light of past experiences, is it unreasonable to expect that the President might consider himself licensed to go even so far as to afford convoys for vessels carrying war supplies to Britain? There ought to be a growing public protest against such a possibility."

Senator Nye said that there are two courses open to America.

"First," he said, "we can continue adopting Europe's hates as our own concern and make those hates a part of American policy, which can only mean ultimately our entry into Europe's war. Or second, our choice can be that of preventing American suicide by an enlarged determination to prevent the next steps — steps which will so naturally follow the lease-lend initiation, steps involving convoying and immediately inviting challenges which can so readily lead to war.

"Hates, Fears, and Wars."

"My choice has always been and remains that of America's maintaining a continued freedom from entanglements in the hates, fears, and wars of Europe—wars which are about as habitual as breathing.

"As long as we have stayed free from Europe we have prospered and grown strong. When we have gone back there, as we did in 1917, we have come away sorely weakened."

Senator Nye said that the United States can remain out of the war.

"Ability to stay out," he said, "is completely dependent upon the maintenance of a vigorous, healthy voice of protest against involvement. Except for this voice, the lease-lend bill would have been a far more sweeping bit of legislation that finally resulted. It could have been legislation sweeping us at once into the war, except for the mighty protest which American people made heard."

Offers a Program.

Senator Nye offered the American people this program to avoid the final plunge into Europe's war:

"Protest the course that has been pursued.

"Protest against any possibility of American convoys for merchandise going into the war zones.

"Protest loudly against moving our navy to quarters of the world removed from locations that could be pertinent to our own national defense.

"Hold men to the promises they have made.

"Insist upon Britain's spending her own wealth in the salvation of Britain before we more largely underwrite her needs.

"Insist upon that legislation which would require congress to submit the cause of going into another foreign war to the people of the United States."

'ALL OUT' AID MAY MEAN YOUR SON, PARENTS WARNED

Scan Every U. S. Move, Anti-War Rally Told.

The Rev. Dr. John A. O'Brien, professor in the graduate school of the University of Notre Dame, called upon the American people yesterday to redouble their vigilance in scrutinizing every move of the administration's all-out aid to Britain program.

"Unless American fathers and mothers watch with a lynx-eyed sharpness every move of the propagandists for intervention, they may find to their dismay that 'all-out' applies to their sons," Dr. O'Brien told an antiwar rally sponsored by the Hyde Park chapter of the America First committee in Graham Taylor hall, 5757 University avenue.

Deception Is Assailed.

Attacking what he termed the "smoke screen of deception" with which the administration has edged the youth of America closer to the European war, Dr. O'Brien said:

"We must thunder our protests against every single step that points toward war. We must serve unmistakable notice upon our President and our congressmen that the pledges upon which they were elected must be kept."

Plans Another Address.

Dr. O'Brien will address another America First rally tonight at 8 o'clock in the Wadsworth school, 64th street and University avenue. More than 1,200 persons are expected to attend.

Yeager Cantwell, Northwestern university law student, will speak at 8:30 p. m. today before the Oak Park chapter headquarters at 736 Lake street in the suburb.

Miss Lilliam Gish and Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Hammond will address an America First luncheon rally tomorrow at 1 p. m. in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Sherman. Mrs. Janet Ayer Fairbank, national vice chairman, will preside.

WILLKIE MEDIC COSTS TOO HIGH, MARTIN ASSERTS

Washington, D. C., March 30 (AP).—Chairman Joseph W. Martin of the Republican national committee said today that Wendell L. Willkie had offered to pay a $13,000 bill submitted by Dr. D. H. Barnard of Beverly, Cal., a throat specialist who treated him during last fall's Presidential campaign, but that Martin believed the committee should pay it.

Martin said the bill was "a proper expense of the campaign." He added, however, that he "thought the bill was too high and I turned the matter over to the treasurer of the committee for adjustment."

ASK VOLUNTEERS FOR 3 NEW UNITS OF CHUTE TROOPS

U. S. to Have 1,500 Jumpers in Service by Nov. 1.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 30.—Plans for three more battalions of parachute troops—making a total force of almost 2,000 in the parachute service—were disclosed tonight by the war department in urging officers and men to volunteer as sky troops.

The 501st parachute battalion is in training at Fort Benning, Ga. The war department disclosed that the 502d battalion will be formed on July 1, the 503d on Sept. 1 and the 504th on Nov. 1.

With four such battalions in service, the army will have approximately 1,500 officers and men trained as jumpers. All four battalions will be trained at Fort Benning.

Service with Troops Required.

Commanding generals of all armies, army corps, corps areas, departments and divisions have been instructed to obtain applications immediately from all infantry officers—about 100 will be needed—who desire to transfer to parachute battalions, the war department said.

Officers of the regular army volunteering for the parachute group must have at least one year's service with troops as of next Sept. 1 and reserve officers must have six months with troops. Vacancies are open for second and first lieutenants, captains and majors. The maximum age limit for captains and lieutenants is 35 years and for majors, 40 years.

Enlisted jumpers will be men aged 21 to 30 years, inclusive.

Must Serve Year or More.

Enlisted jumpers must be at least 66 inches tall and not more than 74 inches. Applicants must have had at least six months' service in the regular army and must have at least one more year to serve in their enlistment. However, men who have less than a year to serve in their current enlistment may be discharged and reënlisted for transfer to the parachute battalions.

It is contemplated that a limited number of draftees may be accepted for the parachute battalions, provided they meet all qualifications except that on length of service. The men selected as parachutists will receive extra pay. A limited number will be eligible to fill vacancies in the higher grades.

HUTCHINS TELLS WHAT WE LOSE IF WE GO TO WAR

People Oppose Conflict, Says U. of C. President.

many, will she be welcomed into the choir of the democracies?

"If we go to war, what are we going to war for? The British propose to defeat the axis. What they propose to do then they do not say. They have repeatedly refused to say. Yet the United States is entitled to know.

"Are we to rush to arms every time the British empire is in danger? If so, we are entitled to know what the future policy of the British empire is to be. Are we to put down every tyrant that arises in Europe? If so, we are entitled to know what is to be done to keep each tyrant from being worse than the last.

Asks What Roosevelt Means.

"If we go to war, what are we going to war for? The only specific statement the President has made on the course we are to pursue after the war is found in two sentences in his last speech. He said, 'We believe that any nationality, no matter how small, has the inherent right to its own nationhood.' To the same effect he said, 'There never has been, there isn't now, and there never will be any race of people fit to serve as masters over their fellow men.'

"Do these statements imply the restoration of prewar boundaries in Austria, Czecho-Slovakia, Memel, Danzig, Poland, France, China, and Rumania? Is this undertaking to be world-wide? If so, how do we induce Russia to restore the prewar boundaries of Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Finland, and Poland?

Boundaries Fall Apart.

"If we succeed in reëstablishing these boundaries, how do we know they will last? The boundaries we helped lay down the last time fell apart in 20 years. And we tried to lay them down on the same principle that the President proposes now: The principle of self-determination.

"And what do we do about the countries which were victims of aggression before 1939? What do we do about Hong Kong, the Malay States, the Dutch East Indies, French Indo-China, Africa, and, above all, India?

"If there never has been, isn't now, and never will be any race of people fit to serve as masters over their fellow men, how can we tolerate the mastery of the white race over our brown, yellow, and black fellow men thruout the world?

The Four Freedoms.

"If we go to war, what are we going to war for? We are stirred, but not enlightened, by the great phrase — the four freedoms — which the President has used as the general statement of our aim. Freedom of worship, freedom of speech, freedom from want, and freedom from fear—if we go to war, we go to establish these four freedoms everywhere.

"The President cannot literally mean that we are to fight on till the four freedoms ring everywhere. If we are to be responsible for the four freedoms everywhere, we must force the four freedoms upon people who might prefer to do without them rather than accept them from the armed missionaries of the United States.

"This new imperialism, this revised conception of the white man's burden, this modern version of America's manifest destiny, is a repudiation of the Presidential teaching that there never has been, isn't now, and never will be any race of people fit to serve as masters over their fellow men.

Other Fields for Freedom.

"Of course, we must extend the four freedoms to our 'allies' as well as to our 'enemies.' We must see to it that British possessions thruout the world have them. The hopes held out to India during the last war, disappointed after it, and now held out again, must be fulfilled. China, Greece, and Turkey must reform, too. In the Latin-American countries we shall have no easy task. Few of them have the four freedoms now. From Mexico to Patagonia we must send our legions to convert our good neighbors by force of arms.

"The President cannot mean this, for it is a program of perpetual war, war in Latin-America, war in the far east, war in the South seas, and even war with Britain.

The Steps After War.

"Mr. Roosevelt must mean that by defeating the axis we shall rid the world of those governments at present most aggressive in their attack on the four freedoms. During or after the war, we shall have to figure out the next steps: How to establish and maintain governments that believe in the four freedoms. The first step is war. Here, then, is the real issue. Is the path to war the path to freedom?

"Total war for total victory against totalitarian states can best be conducted by totalitarian states. The reason is simple. A totalitarian state will be more effective in war than any other kind of state.

"A democratic state is organized for the happiness of its citizens. But their happiness cannot be considered in total war. Every one of them must become a cog in the military machine. If the United States is to proceed thru total war to total victory over totalitarian states, it must become totalitarian, too.

What We Want—And Get.

"Is total war, then, the path to freedom? We seek freedom from want, and we impoverish ourselves. We seek freedom from fear, and we terrorize ourselves. We seek freedom of worship and freedom of speech, and we suppress them.

"And when total victory has been won, will the totalitarian administration end? We may find a clew in England. A responsible member of the British cabinet, Sir Archibald Sinclair, publicly supports a proposal that there shall be no elections in England for three years after the war. The reason is clear. Poverty and disillusionment will make democracy dangerous.

"What will be America's fate after a long, hard, and bloody war? In times of peace we have had 10 million unemployed; we shall have at least that many again.

No Resources for Butter.

"We shall have an enormous debt. Repudiation and inflation may rid us of that—and at the same time of the middle class. Having exhausted our resources in getting guns, we shall have none for butter, houses, relief, social security, or education.

"We shall have want and fear, and may have the kind of freedom proclaimed by one of Napoleon's marshals to the German towns. He said, 'My friends, I bring you perfect liberty. But be prudent. I shoot the first man who stirs.'

"Lord Halifax on Tuesday said that Hitler could never invade England. If he can never invade England, he can never conquer the Western Hemisphere. We in America have a chance to save democracy if we build our defenses and stay at peace. If we enter upon total war to total victory, we shall lose that chance, even if we win the victory."

The War on Capitalism.

Dr. Hutchins warned that there are modern American nihilists who want war for its catastrophe, because they believe that then capitalism will be destroyed.

"I think it fairly certain that capitalism will not survive American participation in this war," the educator prophesied. "And since it is the vehicle of the materialism that has brought us to our present pass, I am not altogether sure that it deserves to. But experience after the last war in Germany, Italy, and Russia does not suggest that catastrophe is the road to something better.

"The trouble with the doctrine of progress thru catastrophe is that you can be sure of the catastrophe, but not of the progress. So of war as the path to freedom. You can be certain of the war. The freedom is another matter.

How Freedoms Are Lost.

"If we enter this war, we shall lose what we have of the four freedoms. We shall lose the hope of realizing them. What we have, in this country, is hope. War, for this country, is a counsel of despair. It is a confession of failure. It is national suicide.

"We have far surpassed most other nations in our advance toward the four freedoms. We and we alone have the hope of realizing them. We must bravely and hopefully face the task of realizing them. We must show the world a nation which practices the four freedoms. This is America's destiny."

Dr. Hutchins, who served overseas in the world war, asserted that there is no reason for the belief that a wise peace will follow the present conflict.

Fear and Ignorance in Treaties.

"Fear and ignorance wrote the last peace," he said. "The fear of the French and British, the ignorance of all the nations. From this fear and ignorance sprang a peace that made this war inevitable. There is no less fear, and certainly no less ignorance, today."

We must be childishly naïve to suppose that our national ills will disappear if the Nazis are overthrown and the British empire preserved, he asserted.

"If we go to war, and preserve the British empire, and crush the Germans, our fundamental problems will remain," he said. "We do not face our fundamental problems by going to war; we evade them. We do not make a just and lasting peace by writing into another treaty the fear, ignorance, and confusion that have marred our efforts to build a democratic community at home. If we would change the face of the earth we must first change our own hearts.

"It is our task to work out a new order in America, not, like Hitler's, based on slavery and degradation, but based on the premise that society exists to promote the happiness of its members and that happiness consists in the development of the highest powers of men.

"The good life and the just society—not the luxurious life or the powerful state—these are the goals toward which America must strive.

"It is America's destiny to reach these goals. It is her duty to the world to struggle toward them. The war to which humanity calls America is the war against poverty, disease, ignorance, and injustice. We must win this war in America now.

"The Proposition Is Peace."

"To win this war we must have peace. Edmund Burke said to the house of commons. 'Judging of what you are by what you ought to be, I persuaded myself that you would not reject a reasonable proposition because it had nothing but its reason to recommend it. . . . The proposition is peace.'

"The proposition has nothing but its reason to recommend it. The war to total victory over poverty, disease, ignorance, and injustice has none of the glamor and draws few of the cheers that accompany a war of mutual extermination.

"But tho tyrants may be put down, tyranny cannot be destroyed by airplanes and tanks. Tyranny can be destroyed only by creating a civilization in which people will not suffer so much that they will trade their liberties for the pitiful security which the tyrant offers.

Tells America's Task.

"The war to create this civilization is our war. We must take advantage of every day we have left to build a democracy which will command the faith of our people, and which, by the light of its example, will restore the democratic faith to the people of the world.

"America has been called the arsenal of democracy. It has been called the larder of democracy. Let us make it the home of democracy. This is America's destiny."

AXIS NATIONALS FLEE ALL PARTS OF JUGO-SLAVIA

Nazis Say Serbs Plan to Occupy Albania.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, March 30 (AP).—Axis nationals began the evacuation of all Jugo-Slavia today, leaving by special train, river boat, and automobile as German press dispatches said Jugo-Slavia had hinted she may occupy Albania if Germany starts a march into Greece.

Viktor von Heeren. [A.P. Wirephoto.]

Twelve hundred nervous German men, women, and children jammed every available corner of the Danube river excursion boat Uranus, bound for Vienna. Three thousand other Germans were fleeing Croatia, which touches old Austria.

Among the excited crowd on the Uranus were several German journalists who a few weeks ago in Bucharest and Sofia reported the British evacuations from those capitals, and now are fleeing themselves.

Expand Evacuation Order.

The Germans and Italians were leaving not only Serbia and Croatia but also Slovenia, in a movement which was expected to be complete tomorrow with the departure of a special train. The evacuation order for Germans originally was confined to Serbia. Croatia and Slovenia have been considered areas more friendly to citizens of the reich.

The German legation was a scene of great confusion. Sidewalks outside it were piled high with packing cases bearing the name of the German minister, Viktor von Heeren.

Von Heeren's wife was planning to leave immediately for Vienna by special railroad car, but it was not indicated the minister himself intended to leave.

Trains of 10 and 12 cars were departing almost hourly toward the north, loaded with Germans and Italians.

Streams of German evacuees were pouring into Belgrade from the south with truck loads of baggage, animals, and other possessions.

Caravan of 50 Cars.

Those Germans going to Bulgaria were instructed to leave by way of Hungary and Rumania "because of the danger of crossing the Jugo-Slav-Bulgarian frontier." This was not explained.

A caravan of more than 50 automobiles was prepared to leave for the Hungarian frontier tomorrow morning.

[In Berlin, the German radio announced that Jugo-Slavia had closed the entire German-Jugo-Slav frontier except for one crossing between Maribor and Spielfeld.]

One of the last stories sent out of the country by German correspondents contained this statement which they said the Jugo-Slav premier, Gen. Dusan Simovitch, had made to the Italian minister:

"Jugo-Slavia is not going to be enclosed. If the Germans go to Salonika [Greece], the Jugo-Slavs must get to the sea by way of Albania."

No Confirmation at All.

Jugo-Slav official circles said there was absolutely no confirmation of this report.

Von Heeren held an early morning conference with Foreign Minister Momtchilo Nincitch, whose position was termed "very vague" by German circles who have been demanding to know the definite attitude of the new government of King Peter II, toward the pact with the axis, the signing of which cost the old régime its life.

German correspondents continued to report that the Croat peasant leader, Vladimir Macek, was still awaiting clarification of the government's foreign policy before giving it his support, but the Belgrade press declared Croat and Serb relations were more firmly established than ever.

Nazis Watch and Wait.

BERLIN, March 30 (AP).—Watchful waiting respecting Jugo-Slavia remained the German attitude today as the Croats were reported trying to make up their minds whether to follow the Belgrade government in a political course hostile to the axis.

Responsibility of the gravest nature rests on them and Dr. Vladimir Macek, their leader, it was observed in Berlin.

The impression grew in political quarters that it would be difficult for Premier General Dusan Simovitch to halt or reverse the antiaxis course which his government has started.

Some Germans expressed doubt whether Jugo-Slavia would hold together under the strain of an anti-German foreign policy, which they said is unpopular in Croatia and Slovenia.

Rescued by Father

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Christopher Reinier, age 4, after he was saved from drowning by father near Waukegan.

Christopher [Kit] Reinier, 4 years old, who also is known as Curlytop, went to a family picnic yesterday a day late. It had been planned for Saturday, but Kit fell off a plank bridge, pulled a wheelbarrow on top of him, and nearly drowned in Dead river.

The accident occurred about three miles northwest of Waukegan, where the Reiniers are building a new home. Kit was bringing some water to his father, Glen H. Reinier, 1511 Monroe street, Waukegan, purchasing agent for the Abbott Laboratories, and the latter's father, William Reinier, as they worked. He slipped while crossing a creek which is a part of Dead river.

His father, a Boy Scout commissioner, saw the wheelbarrow, which had been on the bridge, when it fell. He found Kit pinned in a foot and a half of water by the barrow. Reinier applied artificial respiration, which physicians said saved the boy's life, then took him to a Waukegan hospital, where seven stitches were taken in his forehead.

Mr. and Mrs. Reinier, their four other children, and Kit went on the picnic yesterday.

GREEKS PREPARE OFFENSIVE OVER WIDE BATTLE LINE

British Moving Toward Albania to Help.

BITOLJ, Jugo-Slavia [near the Greek-Albanian frontiers], March 30.—Judging from indications here, a combined Greek-British attack on the Italians in Albania is quite probable. Premier Mussolini's Balkan expeditionary force of 300,000 suffered extensive losses during the recent unsuccessful seven day offensive against the Greeks which took place during Il Duce's Albanian visit.

After that failure the Italians asked the Greeks for a 24 hour armistice merely to bury the dead. The Greeks agreed to a shorter period.

Now the Greeks—with the aid of the British—are believed to be preparing an offensive of their own along the entire front from Lake Ochida in the north to the Adriatic in the south. Today there was widespread aerial bombardment on the northern Albanian fighting sectors by British and Greek planes. The damage inflicted was unusually serious.

Briton Inspects Terrain.

Watchers from this side of the Greek frontier saw detachments of British motorized units moving toward the vicinity of Albania. Jugo-Slav forces in this region are virtually on a war footing. Timing of the anticipated Greek attack seems to depend largely on Belgrade, which is still adjusting itself to the swift change in governments last week.

Among Jugo-Slav army officers there is little doubt that Jugo-Slavia will pitch in against the Italians. There are several Greek officers now in southern Jugo-Slavia acting in liaison capacity, and British observers have been traveling to and from Belgrade and Athens. South of the Greek-Jugo-Slav border today a British general was observed inspecting the terrain.

Altho the censorship in Greece has prevented publication of this news, there is a British army there. While its numbers and dispositions may not be divulged, it can be said that Athens has witnessed a considerable parade of British military might for weeks.

The ranks, which have been steadily increased, rumble thru streets with convoys of trucks, trailers, gun carriers, and tanks. English language signposts are commonplace.

Question of Germany.

The question of what Germany will do enters the picture, of course, but the impression on both sides of this frontier is that Italian Albania is doomed no matter what the Nazis do.

Any German attack on Jugo-Slavia would necessitate, it is believed, considerable alterations in the present disposition of the German army. Fuehrer Hitler's troops presumably were getting ready for a drive to the Aegean when the Belgrade government was changed suddenly from a friendly status to at least a doubtful one.

JAP FOREIGN MINISTER LEAVES BERLIN FOR ROME; SEES SIGHTS

BERLIN, March 30 (AP).—Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka left Berlin for Rome late this afternoon by special train. Thousands of Berliners jammed the streets from Bellevue palace, Germany's guest house for distinguished visitors, to Anhalter station to which Matsuoka was escorted by Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop.

The fifth day of Matsuoka's visit in Berlin brought a letup in the political discussions. During the forenoon he drove to suburban Potsdam, where he visited the imperial palace of Sans Souci and the church where Frederick the Great is buried. Ribbentrop conducted him on this sightseeing tour.

Rumania Confiscates Rest of Mme. Lupescu Property

BUCHAREST, Rumania, March 30 (AP).—Land and buildings valued at 54,000,000 lei, the remaining properties in Rumania owned by Mme. Lupescu, have been confiscated by the government. Mme. Lupescu has gone to Portugal with the abdicated king, Carol. [Fifty-four million lei nominally would be about $250,000.]

TELLS OF BRITISH U-BOAT SINKING 2 ITALIAN VESSELS

Convoy Raided, Attacker Escapes 6 Hour Hunt.

BY LARRY ALLEN.

ABOARD THE BRITISH SUBMARINE PARTHIAN WITH THE BRITISH MEDITERRANEAN FLEET, March 30 (AP).—The British submarine Parthian torpedoed two heavily laden Italian supply ships in a daring daylight attack on an enemy convoy near the edge of Italy's toe.

Creeping within close range in the Straits of Messina [between Italy and Sicily], the Parthian banged away with torpedoes into a convoy of three ships and an escorting sloop, shoving two projectiles each into two vessels.

Six Hour Chase Follows.

The sharp metallic clang of torpedoes striking the sides of the ships, a 6,000 ton supply vessel and a 10,000 ton oil tanker, was followed by heavy explosions that started the vessels toward the bottom of the sea.

[The British admiralty announced on Friday that the Parthian hit the two ships with torpedoes.]

The Parthian plunged toward the bottom to escape depth charges dropped by the convoy's escort sloop and antisubmarine motorboats.

The skipper, Commander M. G. Rimington, D. S. O., said the Italians chased his craft six hours before giving up. Some depth charges, he said, came "too close for comfort."

Commander Rimington said the convoy was going north at the time of the attack, apparently headed for Albania. The 6,000 ton vessel carried a large deck cargo of fresh cut timber.

Parthian a Vet of Action.

The Parthian, already credited with having sunk an Italian submarine off Tobruk, Libya, and three merchantmen, and with having scored a hit on an Italian cruiser, launched her torpedoes while less than a mile distant as the convoy was rounding Italy's toe in the straits.

"The convoy came out of the straits in staggered fashion, leaving just enough gaps between the ships to make an excellent torpedo target," Commander Rimington said.

"The convoy was just reforming and tightening up the gaps under the protection of the sloop when we got the range.

"A squadron of antisubmarine motorboats joined the sloop in the hunt for us within 20 minutes after the first torpedo smashed.

"The Italians quickly counter-attacked and depth charges burst all around us. All charges were too close for comfort. We kept submerging and moving away. The sloop and antisubmarine boats hunted us for six hours."

GREEK PATROLS TAKE PRISONERS IN SHARP ACTIONS

ATHENS, Greece, March 30 (AP).—A Greek general headquarters communique today reported "intense patrol and artillery activity" at the Albanian front and said prisoners had been taken. The communique also said Greek planes had bombed Italian munitions depots which "exploded and started to burn." All the Greek planes returned safely, it was said.

Bomb Greek Troops.

ROME, March 30 (AP).—Italian bombers attacked Greek troops in the Tepeleni sector of Albania yesterday, the Fascist high command said today.

WOMAN DIES OF BURNS.

Mrs. Maxine Williams, 33 years old, colored, died in county hospital yesterday of burns incurred March 11 in the kitchen of her home at 6048 South Park way.

GERMANS CLAIM SHIPS TOTALING 75,000 TONS SUNK

Flyers Attack City and Harbor of Bristol.

BERLIN, March 30 (AP).—Germany today claimed the sinking of at least 75,000 tons of shipping, more than two-thirds of it in a strongly protected convoy bound for England and announced effective attacks on "war-vital objectives" in the city and harbor of Bristol, England.

The high command communique said submarines, carrying out the counterblockade of the United Kingdom, sank five ships totaling 33,000 tons in the convoy, bringing to eight vessels of 57,000 tons the toll exacted from that group of ships.

Another submarine was reported to have sunk tankers totaling 18,000 tons while the sinking of three additional ships was regarded probable.

The communique further reported that the air force set afire off England's east and southeast coasts one tanker, a large merchantman, and heavily damaged two additional ships. A ship was reported sunk by a bomb in St. George's channel, connecting the Irish sea with the Atlantic.

Attack "Invasion Ports."

LONDON, March 30 (AP).—British bombers struck at the German "invasion ports" along the English channel from Calais to Boulogne tonight in a raid so intense that bomb explosions and the glare of fires lit the English coastline.

A communique said there was slight activity by hostile aircraft in Britain tonight. There were no casualties, it said. Bombs were reported dropped at scattered points in eastern England and in the east and southeast of Scotland, with little damage.

The Germans raided the British channel area during Saturday night but Sunday was comparatively quiet.

The air and home security ministries said a number of fires were started in the Bristol channel area and some damage was done to commercial buildings and houses, Saturday night.

NAZI SHIP LEAVES CHINA; ESCORTED BY JAP WARSHIPS

SHANGHAI, March 30 (AP).—The 7,983 ton German motor passenger liner Ramses slipped her anchorage in the confluence of the Yangtze and Whangpoo rivers last night, foreign sources reported today, and went to sea in the company of two Japanese destroyers.

The Ramses, which has been tied up here since December, 1939, was believed by shipping circles to be headed for Kobe, Japan, to load supplies and perhaps steam into the South Pacific to meet Nazi raiders. As far as was known no British warships were nearer than Hongkong, and interception of the Ramses was regarded as unlikely.

The Italian ship, Conte Verde, 18,765 tons, is the sole axis ship now remaining at Shanghai.

Italians Shoot Spy in Back for Using a Secret Radio

ROME, March 30 (AP).—A foreigner named John Spearces, whose nationality was not disclosed, has been shot in the back as a spy, an Italian communique said tonight. The execution took place in a fort somewhere in southern Italy. Spearces, the communique said, was caught after military experts succeeded in isolating a secret radio by which he transmitted information for use by "a foreign power."

BRITISH RACE ON AS ITALIAN ARMY FLEES DIREDAWA

Fascists Retreat Toward Addis Ababa.

CAIRO, Egypt, March 30 (AP).—The British forces in eastern Ethiopia whipped up their advance on Diredawa today as reports, confirmed in an Italian communique, reached Cairo that the Fascists had abandoned the city and were retreating westward toward Addis Ababa.

Diredawa, with a population of 30,000, stands in a crook of the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railway, some 35 miles north of the ancient Mohammedan city of Harrar which fell to the British last week.

The railway is the only one linking the Ethiopian capital with the sea.

To the northwest the British in Eritrea were marking up similar successes, a communique said, as they pursued the Italians from Keren to Asmara, the capital, in a drive to the Red sea port of Massaua.

"So far we have captured 3,775 prisoners, including 68 officers, together with a number of guns," the communique said of the chase to Asmara.

Want to Beat the Rains.

Thus, military observers said, the British were in a fair way of succeeding in their conquest of Premier Mussolini's East African empire before the torrential equatorial rains set in in May.

The advance on both fronts was accompanied by heavy aerial attacks by the RAF, the South African air force, and a "Free French" air squadron. The Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad, motor transports, troops, and buildings in the various areas were bombed and machine gunned.

[The Rome communique said British pressure in Eritrea was being "courageously held in check by our counterattacks" and announced the withdrawal of Italian forces from Diredawa without explanation save that the men were "taking up new positions to the west."]

The distance by rail from Diredawa to Addis Ababa is more than 200 miles.

"Brush Aside" Italians.

The communique which told of the advance on Diredawa said Italian resistance was being "brushed aside and a number of prisoners with equipment have been taken."

In the fighting in Eritrea dispatches from the front said Indian soldiers charged the ridges commanding the roadway winding to Asmara yelling "God Give Us Victory."

These dispatches said the Italians fired several shells, then fell back leaving behind hundreds of rifles and mules and thousands of rounds of ammunition.

Military sources put Italian casualties at Keren at between 5,000 and 6,000. Considering the nature of the defenses, the British said their own casualties were remarkably light.

Captions indicate location of two important developments in Britain's attempt to wrest Italy's East African empire from Premier Mussolini before heavy rains set in on May 1.

NEGROES APPEAL FOR JOBS IN U. S. ARMS FACTORIES

New York, March 30 [Special].—Negro stars of the stage, concert hall, radio and sport joined with civic officials today in a nation-wide broadcast to call attention to their claims that Negroes are being excluded from work in the national rearmament industries.

Speakers on the program included Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, Charles Poletti, lieutenant governor of New York; Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina; Elmer Carter, member of the unemployment insurance appeals board, and Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion.

Luminaries of the entertainment world who contributed their efforts to the program included Canada Lee, star of "Native Son," Broadway's latest hit play; Ethel Waters, actress; Marion Anderson, Negro contralto, who was breaking her resolve never to sing on the radio; Bill Robinson, Rochester, Jack Benny's comic valet, and Comedian Eddie Green. Three bands, Duke Ellington's, Louie Armstrong's, and John Kirby's furnished the music.

The occasion for the broadcast was the ninth annual vocational opportunity campaign staged by the National Urban league, an inter-racial group whose work is devoted solely to the problems of Negroes. The Columbia Broadcasting system contributed the radio time.

Carter asserted in his speech that at a time when thousands of workers are being employed and smoke is belching from factory chimneys, Negroes are being excluded from jobs in the defense industries.

Joe Louis spoke by phone from St. Louis, where he is preparing to fight Tony Musto on April 8 in defense of his title. He sketched his early career and asserted that Negroes could competently fill jobs in the rearmament industries.

UNCLE FACES LIE TEST IN DEATH OF GIRL AND ROOMER

Watseka, Ill., March 30 [Special].—Robert Fiester, 55 years old, will be taken to Chicago tomorrow morning for a lie detector test. Fiester is an uncle of Miss Royalene Hinkle, 26 years old, whose body, shot thru the head, was found in bed with the body of her sweetheart, Lowell Gray, 25 years old, in a farm house near here Friday morning. The rifle with which the pair was shot already has been taken to the Chicago crime detection laboratory for ballistics and fingerprint tests.

Fiester was arrested yesterday on an open charge and is held by Sheriff Guy E. Redman in the Iroquois county jail. He told the sheriff he found the bodies of his niece and Gray when he went to awaken Gray, a boarder in the house, to go to work in a Hoopeston cannery.

Fiester's first report of the slayings led Sheriff Redman and Coroner Verne Bussert to believe it was a case of murder and suicide. Yesterday T. P. Sullivan, chief of the state highway police and head of the state bureau of criminal identification and investigation, came to Watseka, visited the scene of the killings and expressed the belief that both had been murdered.

The woman had been shot while asleep. Sullivan said it would have been virtually impossible for Gray to shoot himself with the .22 caliber rifle found clasped in his arms. Blood on a window drapery and wall indicated he had been placed in bed after he was shot, Sullivan said.

FOOD SHORTAGE MENACES POLES, AMERICAN SAYS

New York, March 30 [Special].—Near starvation conditions in Poland and especially in Warsaw, the capital, were described today by W. C. McDonald, field representative of the American Commission for Polish Relief, in a cablegram to Chauncey McCormick, head of the organization which has its headquarters here.

Daily food allowances for the 1,800,000 persons crowded into Warsaw are from 1,300 to 1,600 calories below the standard requirement for ordinary nourishment, according to McDonald's message. Soup kitchens maintained by the American commission are feeding 91,000 children and 148,000 adults daily, he said, but they receive only 360 calories of food against the normal 2,000.

Persons able to pay for food get about 700 calories with their ration cards. These persons may buy 7.8 ounces of bread if it is obtainable, .3 of an ounce of butter and fats, .35 of an ounce of meat, .5 of an ounce of sugar, and .3 of an ounce of flour. Food prices are from 4 to 10 times higher than the prewar level where wages have been frozen.

The relief commission has spent $1,200,000 in Europe for food and has sent an additional half million dollars worth of food for use in the children's kitchens. Now it is becoming impossible to buy food in neutral countries. The last purchase made was $100,000 worth of meats, fats, and milk in the Russian Ukraine, the last food source left.

CRUSHED TO DEATH UNDER CAR.

Carmen Mornino, 27 years old, 520 Noble street, jacked up his automobile last night in the garage of the Peoria Cartage company, 1300 21st place, where he was employed, and was working underneath the car, when it fell on him. He was fatally crushed.

An important message to people who borrow money

PERSONAL LOANS

On Your Signature Only

$8* PER YEAR FOR $100

MERCHANDISE BANK SAVES YOU HALF THE USUAL COST

The State of Illinois has published figures showing that last year many thousands of Illinois people made personal loans totaling over $75,000,000. The average loan was $133 and the average cost $17.50* per $100.

Only a few borrowed on their signatures alone; about 90% borrowed on chattel mortgages or other securities.

You can borrow on your signature only—and save at least half the average cost—by coming to Merchandise Bank. Low cost, however, is only one of many advantages of borrowing here.

It's simple: These are our reasonable requirements: (a) you must be over 21, (b) employed 2 years on present job with established concern, (c) have at least $100 monthly income.

It's quick: Telephone your application to Whitehall 4500. Your loan will be completed promptly.

It's fair: You control the cost. The sooner your loan is paid, the less it costs. No extra charges of any kind. No wage assignment. No chattel mortgage on your furniture. Just your signature alone.

It's good business: By borrowing here you establish valuable bank credit.

FRENCH FIRE ON BRITISH SEEKING TO HALT CONVOY

English Warships Return Shots of Shore Guns.

LONDON, March 30 (AP).—British and French forces, once partners in fighting Germany and Italy, but now at the point of enmity and tensely vigilant of each other, traded blows today off Algeria.

The clash came when "a light force" of British warships attempted to halt a French convoy of four merchant ships escorted by a destroyer and asserted to be carrying "important war materials for Germany." An informed British source said one of the ships was loaded with rubber from Bangkok, Thailand [Siam] for Germany.

The British warships were fired on by French shore batteries and returned the fire, claiming hits were observed on the shore guns. French bombing planes later twice attacked the British vessels returning to Gibraltar, but it was stated they suffered no damage or casualties.

The convoy was chased by the British after it had passed thru the strait of Gibraltar within Spanish territorial waters [off Morocco] and called upon it to stop to be searched, the admiralty said.

Claim "Legitimate Right."

"French shore batteries in the vicinity [the nearest point of Algeria is 175 miles southeast of Gibraltar] then opened fire on our ships, notwithstanding that they were merely engaged in the exercise of our legitimate belligerent rights," the admiralty contended. It said the warships were compelled to reply in their own defense.

"In view of the action taken by the French batteries, our warships would have been justified in firing on the French merchant ships and their escort," the admiralty said, "but in the interest of humanity did not do so and the merchant ships succeeded in entering the nearby French port of Nemours [about 210 miles southeast of Gibraltar]."

Three times before British naval fire had been turned on France. At Oran, Algeria, on last July 3 and on July 8 at Dakar, French West Africa, the British attacked units of the French fleet to prevent them from falling into German hands. Again at Dakar, the British helped Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of "Free French" forces, in an unsuccessful landing attempt.

The French Version.

VICHY, France, March 30 (AP).—A French torpedo boat, land batteries, and warplanes clashed this morning with the naval forces of their old allies, the British, when the latter attempted to stop a French convoy in French waters off Algeria, it was reported officially today.

The French said the British naval forces were made up of a cruiser and five torpedo boats, while the French escort vessel was only a small escort vessel which had in charge four merchant vessels bound from one French colony to another with food supplies.

This was the first report of French resistance to British seizure since Admiral Jean Darlan, vice premier and foreign minister, announced on March 10 that France would attack British blockade ships if necessary to import food for this country.

Call Attackers a "Large Force."

The French admiralty's communique said:

"On March 30 at 9 a. m. [1 a. m. Chicago time] a large British naval force attacked in French waters between Nemours [Algeria] and Oran a convoy of four French merchant ships going from Casablanca, Morocco, to Oran, Algeria, under the escort of a single French torpedo boat.

"The convoy took refuge in Nemours under the protection of its escort, land batteries, and aviation. These replied to the fire of the aggressors and turned them away. The convoy is safe and sound."

A spokesman said the escort vessel was the 1,500 ton Semoun, which he described as a "symbolic" rather than an "effective" escort, and which he said could not have been considered provocative to the British.

The French official said the British "aggression" was unjustified since it was clear the ships were going from one French colony to another. He declared there was no possible danger of food on the ships reaching the Germans.

Slaying Charged

Dr. Merrill Joss and his wife, in whose death he has been charged with murder at Richmond, Me. Mrs. Joss also was a physician.

Richmond, Me., March 30 (AP).—Dr. Merrill Joss, 31 years old, was arrested today on a warrant charging murder in the bludgeon death of his 38 year old wife, also a physician.

Protesting his innocence, Joss was taken into custody at his old colonial mansion after returning from funeral services for Mrs. Joss. Rushed to Augusta by state police, Joss appeared on the verge of collapse and had to be supported by State Police Chief Henry P. Weaver, who served the warrant.

The doctor's wife, who practiced under the name of Dr. Luverne Harris, was found in the cellar of their colonial office-home Thursday night after being struck 26 times on the head.

Dr. Joss was questioned six hours by police last night. Officers at that time theorized from his story that a drug addict had attacked his wife in her office after he had sought in vain to purchase narcotics.

Dr. Joss attended his wife's funeral in a virtual state of collapse, and during services he repeatedly brushed away his tears. He was accompanied by his parents of Washington, D. C.

"And now Mrs. Jennings will tell us all about Science"

Reporting on the world of science is a job for specialists. Few and far between are men like Science Editor Waldemar Kaempffert and Science Reporter (and Pulitzer prize-winner) William L. Laurence of The New York Times, who not only talk and understand the lingo of scientists, but can make their readers understand it, too.

Laurence's story on the discovery of Uranium-235 as opening the way to an atomic power 5 million times as potent as coal—the most important scientific news in many years—scooped all other publications, including the scientific press!

It is because The Times makes science interesting and intelligible to readers—just as it does politics, sports, fashions, business and everything else in the news—that so many hundreds of thousands find it the indispensable newspaper. And so many advertisers, too.

Save Our Republic

THE ROAD TO REVOLUTION.

People are justly alarmed by the strikes that are sabotaging arms production but, while alarmed, they cannot rightly say that they are surprised. What they are seeing they have seen often before. The participants in the disorders are the same and the methods upon which they rely for success are the same.

The participants are Mr. Roosevelt's followers. They are using the weapons he placed in their hands in exchange for their votes. It seems to reasonable men that he must choose between his new and his old love, between his world crusade, with its great demands on industrial production, and his desire for social and economic change, promoted in part by violence that cripples production; but there is little evidence that he realizes that the choice is necessary.

It may be that Mr. Roosevelt has passed the time when he can make a free choice. His past actions may have involved him too deeply. The communists are in the forefront of the strikes. It is easier to get in bed with a communist than to crawl out of the bed. John L. Lewis and his successor in the CIO, Philip Murray, know that now. The CIO needed trained revolutionaries for its violent campaign of organization, and the communists whose aid it accepted are still in the CIO, wielding an influence far out of proportion to their numbers. Mr. Lewis and Mr. Murray may want to get rid of them, but cannot do so without wrecking their organization.

The fellow travelers have Mr. Roosevelt in the same grip in which the communists hold the CIO. They so permeate the departments of the government where he has placed them that he cannot move without them, and they are unwilling to move with him to curb labor excesses. Mr. Roosevelt's Supreme court dismisses strike riots as "moments of animal exuberance." Mr. Roosevelt's Mme. Perkins, the sponsor of Harry Bridges, must give her consent before the new mediation board may even attempt to settle a strike.

These people and their allies of like mind outside the government accept Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy because it fits into their plans for America. War, if it comes, will enable them to apply their blue print of the new society, which demands that the government control everything and everybody.

Few of them, however, are as frank as Herbert Agar, the Louisville editor, who urges the active participation of the United States in the war and acknowledges that "the price of an all-out resistance to the Hitler revolution will be an all-out social and economic change at home."

The present strikes are something more than attempts to sabotage defense preparations, altho that is the immediate object of the communists who are conducting a good many of them. The strikes are political in character, aimed toward communism by the communists, but not unwelcome to the New Dealers, who see in them the opportunity to advance their peculiar brand of totalitarianism.

The people who are alarmed by the present strikes may take cold comfort from the fact that they haven't seen anything yet. The present disorders are mild compared with what we may expect from the violent disarrangement of our economy which will be the inevitable aftermath of our active engagement in war. Mr. Agar is right. His "all-out social and economic change" will be a social revolution that will destroy in America every institution of freedom that Mr. Roosevelt is urging us to preserve in Europe.

MODERNIZING THE "L."

The Illinois house of representatives has passed a resolution asking the Illinois Commerce commission to study the substitution of steel for wooden cars on the Chicago elevated lines, and to order the use of safe equipment on the "L."

The commerce commission is nearly two years ahead of the legislators on this subject. In 1939 it ordered the "L" lines to get rid of the wooden cars within five years and to install a system of automatic train control. There is no disagreement as to the need for modern, safe equipment on the "L." The only question is where the money is to come from.

The financial condition of the elevated lines is even worse than their physical condition. They have been bankrupt for years. They are not earning even their operating expenses and taxes, and in fact are able to meet their pay rolls only because the federal court has given them an extra-legal subsidy by enjoining the collection of taxes by local governments.

Obviously the present owners of the "L" can never find the millions of dollars necessary to carry out the safety program ordered by the commerce commission. The delinquent taxes, which are a prior lien on the properties, offer one solution. If the city were to take over the lines for unpaid taxes it might require the surface lines, as a condition to a franchise for their own profitable operations, to operate the "L" also. If title were retained by the city, the "L" presumably would be tax exempt, which would only mean that other taxpayers would have to take over its share of the tax burden. With such a public subsidy, operation of the "L" might yield sufficient return to pay for the improvements over a long period.

ROSY DREAMS FOR A GLOOMY FUTURE.

The British are giving much thought to the problem of readjusting the members of their armed forces to civilian pursuits after the war ends. The London Daily Mail reports that a government committee considering this demobilization problem has recommended tentatively that unless a soldier, sailor, or airman is an engineer or craftsman whose skill will be needed for rebuilding destroyed areas, he be kept in service for a considerable period after the fighting stops.

Planning for reconstruction during a war is not new, altho the subject has received more discussion during the present conflict than was usual in the past. It may be recalled that some thoughtful citizens, with the heavy cost of civil war pensions in mind, had the bright idea when this nation was last fighting that those burdens could be avoided if every soldier were given a $10,000 life insurance policy. A glance at the veterans' appropriations in any recent federal budget will show how close those gentlemen came to being right.

It is not unlikely that when the British cease fighting the men in the ranks will have some definite ideas of their own as to whether they want to spend any more time in camps and barracks. The problem of providing occupations for a disbanded army places a severe strain on the national economy, but that is only one among many strains which it must bear.

War is a disruptive and destructive force. Wars commonly produce economic instability and social unrest, and the harder the war the greater the dislocations become. This nation is not likely to escape those penalties, even if it does restrain the war mongers from dispatching expeditionary forces to all points of the compass. If the United States is going to be the arsenal for armies fighting on three continents the end of the fighting is going to find it suffering from economic disruption little less severe than that suffered by the actual combatants.

WELL SAID.

"I do not believe that this is our war. We were not at Munich. The wars of Europe are Europe's wars and the wars of Asia are Asia's wars. It is not primarily our mission to become involved in wars beyond our borders if we are not attacked."—Senator Millard E. Tydings [D., Md.] at Jackson day dinner, March 29, 1941.

BRITISH TRADE STATISTICS.

Figures just received in Chicago show that the British exported last year goods of their own production valued at 413 million pounds sterling. This was more than in any of the years from 1931 thru 1934 and was only 12 per cent less than in 1938, the last full year before the war.

This is a truly remarkable record. In the years immediately before Hitler invaded Poland one-fifth of all the goods exported by Britain was sold in Germany and the countries now occupied by Germany. The loss of these customers alone might have been expected to cut foreign sales of the British by 20 per cent, but the drop in their exports is but 12 per cent. What this indicates is that while fighting they not only have been able to retain prewar business among nonbelligerents but have actually increased it.

So far as exports to the United States are concerned the figures are striking. In the last 10 years our imports from the United Kingdom have been as follows:

1931	$135,452,000	1936	$200,385,000
1932	74,631,000	1937	202,691,000
1933	111,218,000	1938	118,240,000
1934	115,358,000	1939	149,000,000
1935	155,282,000	1940	155,000,000

The average American has been led to believe that every English factory which isn't producing a necessity for maintaining civilian life in Britain is producing arms and military supplies. Our citizens have also been told that production facilities have been reduced by bombing. It has been commonly understood that shipping has been so greatly reduced by submarines, surface raiders, and diving planes that the British have not even the facilities to carry war supplies from America, let alone going about the world looking for opportunities to make an honest pound.

The British trade statistics tell an entirely different story. Many factories in Britain are busily engaged in producing peacetime goods for sale in foreign markets from which European competitors have been excluded by the blockade. While Mrs. Roosevelt thinks that the American people might be asked to get along without new cars, a British publication thinks this is a good time to expand the sale of English automobiles in South America. While American ships are not available to keep goods moving to Latin America and the Philippines, the British have ample bottoms to service their growing trade with non-European countries.

FACTS WITHOUT COMMENT.

One of our faithful readers has forwarded to us two clippings from last Friday's issue of THE TRIBUNE. Excerpts follow.

From page 7:

"Detroit, Mich., March 27 [Special].—Councilman Harry L. Dingeman stood mute today when arraigned in Recorder's court on charges of accepting a $5,000 bribe for his vote last September to award an $8,300,000 federal housing project contract to two Chicago contractors.

"'I have made a mistake,' Dingeman said. Dingeman is the third Detroit councilman to be indicted. John F. Hamilton admitted that he took $15,000, and is awaiting trial.

"All indictments charge that the money paid to the three councilmen came from a fund set up by Seymour Smith of Chicago, an officer of A. Smith & Co., and William Lipman of Chicago, vice president of the Lipman Construction company, the successful bidders on the contract."

"A. Smith & Co., Chicago, yesterday was awarded a war department contract for construction of 14 temporary hospital buildings and utilities at Fort Sheridan, costing $225,750."

Editorial of the Day

UP FOR AN ANSWER.

[Kansas City Times.]

It becomes increasingly doubtful whether any measure the administration has proposed will be strong enough to deal with the strike situation in defense plants. It checks right up to the White House and the government at a time when the call has gone out to workers, to management, to all the people to help produce and to sacrifice in a great national effort. It is distressingly plain that the call is not getting a full response.

What will be done about it? Mr. Roosevelt has said jurisdictional strikes were unjustified, and he condemned "unnecessary" strikes—along with "short-sighted management" and "deliberate sabotage." We have had little "deliberate sabotage" and there has been little or no complaint, from the administration itself, of any failure of management to assume its responsibilities.

It can't go on. The administration and congress know it. Questions of rights and privileges have been fully threshed out. Everybody has rights and privileges, or should have them. But whose rights come first today? What interest comes first?

Unless there is a swift change for the better the answer will have to be given quickly and in plain terms.

MR. PEPYS SPEAKS OF ROBINS.

31st March—Did look for robins on my walk last Saturday among the gray fields and bare trees of this slow spring, and saw none, but the next morning two came and sat on a wire and looked straight into my window. They will nest close by, and presently I will find their young on my lawn, unable to fly, for in infancy the robin seems a ground bird and in danger from cats. The parents launch their offspring from the nest before they can support themselves in flight.

Once I lived where I could look down into a robin's nest, and did observe the whole business of family life, from the first egg to the hatching and the breaking of home ties. Most interesting it was. When the eggs were hatched, which happened one day after another, the mother took the halves of the broken shell into her beak and flew away with them. A shiftless bird would have dropped them at the foot of the tree, where enemies could find them and learn where the nest was, but the robin knows better.

Presently the young, after many worms were stuffed down their gullets, grew large and strong. One by one they would hop to the edge of the nest and look about quite merrily. Then the mother bird, lurking on a distant branch, would swoop down upon the fledgling and knock him out of the tree, but his fluttering wings would not carry him more than 20 or 30 feet, and he must have been much afraid.

Methought it would be a kindly deed to find the first young bird, which had taken cover under vines, and put him back into his tree. So I went in search, and he fled from me, peeping in fright; and then the two parents flew at me, screaming like eagles and trying in their brave little way to protect their child. With which I gave up the idea of helping the baby and let the robins attend to their own affairs, which is a good idea, whether you are dealing with birds or foreign nations.

BEAUTIFUL SLOGANS.

"Freedom of speech and of worship,
And freedom from want and from fear"—
Hark to the beautiful slogans
The harpies are chanting so clear;
All embracing and world circumscribing
These freedoms to mortals shall be,
From the lone last vale of the arctic
To the last lone isle of the sea.

Harken, ye wistful and trusting,
Behold the four stars in the sky!
Pour out the last mite of your treasure;
Go forth and in ecstasy die!
Let the blood of your brothers commingle
With the blood of your veins in the mire,
While the blind, and the deaf, and the broken
Are losing all hope and desire.

Valiant, and wistful, and trusting—
White bones in the sun and the frost;
Ere the tears of your mothers cease flowing
Those stars in the sky will be lost;
And the harpies of old will assemble
To feast on the fruits of your pain,
While preparing your fatherless children
For beautiful slogans again!

The First Ghost Story?

Owing to the indefiniteness of the authorship of the book of Samuel in the Old Testament, the younger Pliny becomes the narrator of the first haunted house story. [The Biblical instance refers to the witch of Endor recalling the shade of Saul to earth.]

Pliny wrote about A. D. 92. In one of his letters he tells a story about a house in Athens that was plagued with a ghost. A philosopher named Athenodorus heard about the apparition and rented the residence to investigate the phantom. About midnight the specter appeared amid much clanking of chains and irons, in which it was bound. Athenodorus followed the spirit out into the courtyard of the building until it suddenly vanished. He marked the spot and on the following morning had laborers excavate that location. They found bones mingled with corroded fetters. The bones were reburied at public expense. After that the house was no longer haunted. S. N.

After living in the Granada hotel, Bogotá, Colombia, for three months, I moved into an apartment. The next day I received a letter from the hotel management which ran like this:

"Sabriamos agradecerle que, si ya desocupó los ganchos para vestidos que tomó prestados de la habitación que ocupó en este Hotel, nos haga el favor de decirnos a donde y a que hora se puede enviar a un muchacho a retirarlos."

I thought I was being thanked for my patronage and felt quite puffed up until I worked out the translation, which is:

"We will be very grateful to you in case you do not need any more the coat hangers you borrowed from the room you occupied in this hotel if you will be so kind as to tell us where to send a boy to collect them." Roy Owens.

FAMILY RESEMBLANCES.

(A Brookfield Ballad.)

Sometimes I leave the zoo behind
And roam the town's sad streets, to find
Diversion from my petty cares
By watching people's odd affairs.
Somehow I see some haunting trace
Of zoo friends in each passing face.
There's a resemblance, strong tho queer,
Between some folks and skunks or deer.
Some look like wolves and some like sheep;
And as I turn to home and sleep
I find restored my peace of mind—
There still is hope for humankind!

Today the younger letter-writing set never bothers to add "st." or "ave." to the street name.

How to Keep Well By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

DIET AND INSULIN IN DIABETES.

DIABETES continues to be one of mankind's most burdensome crosses. But what a difference between the situation which confronts the patient today, when we think back 20 years. Before the discovery of insulin, about all we could do for a severe case was to prescribe a diet akin to starvation. It is now possible to administer a solution which will control the body's sugar.

What is the disease? As most of us know, many of our important functions are governed by secretions which we term "hormones." One of these—insulin—is produced by certain cells of the pancreas. When it is manufactured and absorbed into the blood in normal amounts, the individual can digest, assimilate, and use up carbohydrates with ease.

But suppose that this material is lacking? While starches will be digested and assimilated, they will not be burned or stored in the usual way. In consequence, the circulation—loaded with more glucose than it can hold—will endeavor to excrete the excess, which may then appear in the urine. In other words, nature is defeating herself. She is asking the victim to eat and yet she is unable to take care of the food as it is delivered to the blood.

As yet, there isn't much we can do to aid the inactive cells within the pancreas. Their output is inadequate and that is all there is to it. Fortunately, the needed hormone can be extracted from animal sweetbreads. When purified, we call it "insulin" and when this substance is introduced beneath the skin it is as effective as tho it had been made by the patient himself.

Thus a great victory has been won over the ravages of the disease. We can remove its sting, altho the sufferer may be obliged to continue the injections. But this is a small price to pay for comfort—even life itself. The diabetic must become a student of his malady and he must be willing to coöperate in the matter of diet, exercise, and medication.

Are there any preventive measures which a well person may adopt to ward off the ailment? Apparently the tendency is inherited, which means that should two persons so afflicted marry, there is more likelihood that their children will develop the condition. But Cupid pays little attention to the science of eugenics.

Obesity certainly bears a relationship to the disorder. With those who are portly, we may limit—or, at least, attempt to do so—the consumption of sweets. As a nation, our annual quota of these products is high. While they are our best sources of energy, a pound of candy at one sitting, for example, is more than the average person can handle even tho his pancreatic gland is operating at par. Instead of three teaspoonfuls of sugar in our morning coffee, perhaps we can get along with one or none. Real connoisseurs take it black.

We must recall that the problem is to keep the diabetic well fed, to maintain his weight and supply energy. He must be given enough to eat to satisfy appetite fully, with the insulin quota adjusted so that the urine remains sugar free. Only by following a strict regimen will we be able to safeguard him from gangrene, cataracts, and high blood pressure.

Should carbohydrates be omitted entirely? Not at all. In fact, it is believed that these foods will stimulate the pancreas to produce more insulin—in some cases. Furthermore, they are required if proteins and fats are to be utilized. Many individuals will show a positive test for sugar which will disappear an hour after a slice or two of bread has been ingested. Without this added starchy edible, glucose would still be present.

There is every reason for the diabetic to take courage if he can find a skilled physician who will take an interest in his case. New light on the subject is streaming constantly from our research laboratories.

The recent untimely passing of Sir Frederick Banting [1801-1941] who, with C. H. Best, discovered insulin—calls to mind this epochmaking contribution. Banting died a hero's death [the result of an airplane accident] while serving the military arm of the Canadian government.

DR. McMAHON ON DR. O'BRIEN.

Notre Dame, Ind., March 26.—I should like to comment on the letter of Father O'Brien, which appeared on March 26.

The polls on the lease-lend bill at Notre Dame were sponsored officially by the America First committee. Many students and faculty members refused to participate in a poll conducted by a partisan group. It was natural, therefore, that the returns should have been heavily in favor of isolationism.

The names of the 16 faculty members who signed a statement attacking the views of Father O'Brien were procured at a faculty gathering within the short period of 20 minutes. Only 17 professors were approached. There is little doubt that the list could have been greatly enlarged had more time been available.

The views of all of us reflected the majority sentiment in the country. It is misleading to assert that we constitute a part of an organized vocal 10 per cent.

FRANCIS E. McMAHON, PH.D.,
Associate professor of philosophy, University of Notre Dame.

AND DR. BARTHOLOMEW ON DR. McMAHON.

Notre Dame, Ind., March 27.—I should like to register a protest against the efforts of Dr. McMahon to pull the Catholic Association for International Peace into his propaganda for increasing intervention and ultimate American involvement in the European war. No poll had been taken among its members on the lend-lease bill or on any of the steps of the administration which by subterfuge and indirection are edging our nation closer to the brink of war.

Without a shred of evidence he seeks to link the majority of the members of the Catholic Peace association to his interventionist views. I should say that the overwhelming majority of this association must necessarily be opposed to the administration's foreign policy for the simple reason that it speaks the language of war.

Scorning all efforts at a peaceful settlement, the President is crying "shame" on all who seek to play the Christlike rôle of bringing the warring leaders to the conference table where alone can be worked out the basis for a just and lasting peace. The administration has renounced the weapons of the peacemaker—reason and conference—for the irrational weapon of brute force.

"War," observed Pope Pius XII., "settles nothing." In his calmer moments President Roosevelt proclaimed that military victory is sterile. The Prince of Peace proclaimed: "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God." That utterance of the divine founder of the Christian faith sounds the keynote of the policy, the work and the striving of the Catholic Association for International Peace.

The belligerent foreign policy of the present administration implicitly asserts the validity of war to settle questions of right and justice. That is tragically false. Our nation in the Kellogg-Briand pact solemnly renounced war as such an instrument. The Ludlow bill pending in Congress, calling upon our government to use its good offices to bring the warring rulers to the conference table, embodies the voice of reason and sanity in a warmad world. It reflects the aim of the Catholic Peace association, the aspirations of humanity the world over, and the mind of the Prince of Peace.

Let us not allow the passions unleashed by the European war to becloud our vision of the one rôle for America to play. That rôle is the Christlike rôle of the peacemaker. Let us back the Ludlow peace bill with a million telegrams to the President and to congress. Let us end the insanity of settling disputes by seeing which side can sink the most ships, bomb the most cities, lay waste the largest area of civilization, and slaughter the most human beings.

PAUL C. BARTHOLOMEW, PH.D.,
Acting head, department of politics, University of Notre Dame.

A CONSTITUENT OF SEN. GEORGE.

Atlanta, Ga., March 26.—Senator Walter F. George, having successfully led the fight for the lease-lend bill, said of its administration: "I am satisfied that the bill may be administered by the President in such manner as to make secure the peace of the United States, to keep war from our shores, and avoid the possibility of our soldiers participating in war."

This opinion, which evidently expressed also the senator's hope, is directly in line with the Democratic platform and with President Roosevelt's oft-repeated pledge to the American people. Over and over the President has assured us that he proposed "to keep war as far from these shores as possible," and that he would send no American boys to fight on foreign seas or soil. This purpose, indeed, was assigned as a chief reason for giving all possible aid to Britain "short of war."

Now that such aid has been authorized, congress and the American people have a right to expect that the President will sacredly respect that solemn pledge, so many times repeated. I suggest that every one who feels that way about it should write him at once and say so.

THE FASCIST PARTY.

Chicago, March 24.—It is proper, I feel, to congratulate THE TRIBUNE for its vigorous editorial today on the "Fascist Party of America."

Had you described the Fascist party as such, eight years ago, I should have been among the first to hunt your scalp.

Our republic shall continue more or less helpless in defense against foreign Fascism until we the people first crush the grip of domestic Fascism.

Long live the republic, the constitution and our bill of rights!

JOSEPH FLEISHER.

BASEBALL AND THE DRAFT.

Chicago, March 23.—I see by the papers that James Stewart, the actor, has been inducted into the army.

Steve Mamakos and Al Davis, top ranking pugilists, also are in the army.

The baseball world has contributed pink tooth brush, flat feet, and infected ears, also deferment during the baseball season so they can draw their high salaries.

I wonder if the baseball stars have cold feet instead of flat?

MEDARD V. T. MALLOY.

VETERANS' HOSPITALS.

Chicago, March 25.—Mrs. Roosevelt says the appeal for funds for the Royal Air Force Benevolent fund "cannot be ignored."

How about taking proper care of veterans of the last world war—Americans—who are pushed around by a bureocratic veterans' administration and forced to appeal for charity while an ungrateful government fills the veterans' hospitals with congressmen and politicians with the d. t.'s, and the President's son and the secretary of the interior usurp the facilities intended for sick, crippled, and disabled veterans?

I am sure that every other veteran knows, as the writer does, of sick and disabled veterans whose cases are not reached after months and months of waiting and useless correspondence; who are denied relief by other organizations because they are veterans, and eventually are denied veterans' compensation because they can't get impossible evidence after 22 years from comrades long since dead or disappeared.

VETERAN OF 1918.

HAS THE ARMY A BUS?

Chicago, March 25.—Recently articles have appeared in THE TRIBUNE and other newspapers inviting girls to the dances at Fort Sheridan. Many Chicago girls would go to Fort Sheridan except for two things:

1. The expense. It costs over a dollar to go there. For girls making $15 or $18 a week this is a sizable outlay.
2. Coming home late at night on the train.

We think that the United States army should send buses to the Chicago loop to pick up the girls and bring them back to town after the dance.

BANK STOCK.

Chicago, March 27.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A party had one share of bank stock which he sold one year before the bank merged. One year after the merger with another bank they closed. A blanket judgment was taken against him. He never appeared in court.

1. Is the stockholder liable?
2. If so, is he liable for the full amount?
3. If he is not liable [4] is it costly to have the judgment set aside?

If he is not liable for the full amount, and there is an error in the judgment, [5] what would you advise him to do?

6. Is it possible to set aside a judgment which was in error, at nominal cost?

A. A.

1. Yes.
2. Yes.
3. See preceding answers.
4. Depends on the grounds and on the attorney.
5. We see no defense on the bare facts stated but conceivably an attorney might be able to work out some compromise payment.

Test Your Horse Sense

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 24.

1. Malt is generally made from Wheat Rye Barley Corn.
2. You would be most likely to witness a "flying mare" in Boxing Wrestling Hockey Polo.
3. The Baldwin refers to which of the following types of fruit? Peach Pear Grape Apple.
4. If a farmer were talking about whey, would he have reference to Vinegar Tobacco Milk Molasses.
5. The number of acres in a quarter section of land is 40 80 160 240.
6. Manufacturers deal with retail merchants as well as with wholesalers or jobbers. In a certain field of merchandise, for example, the retailer's discount is 40 and 5, whereas the jobber's discount is 50 and 5. Keeping these facts in mind, what does the retailer pay for an article of merchandise whose retail price is $100? And what does the jobber pay for the same piece of merchandise? Remember, too, that both take advantage of the 2 per cent discount for payment within 10 days.

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

FRENCH MISSING ALL THE BOATS, SAYS NAZI PAPER

Assails Indifference to Collaboration.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 30.—Some indication of German semiofficial opinion of the situation in France is contained in an editorial in the Strassburger Neueste Nachrichten, which, from its position in a city which less than a year ago was French, keeps a sharp eye on events in France.

According to this editorial, the French have missed all the boats. The people of that divided country appear simply to be marking time, waiting to see how the war will come out. They seem to believe that the Anglo-Saxon coalition has a chance of winning the war and are less wrathful than they should be over the harsh treatment they get from that coalition.

Petain Goes Unheeded.

The French are missing the boats also on coöperation with Germany, according to the Strassburg [Strasbourg] paper. The groups favoring coöperation are not powerful enough to control policy and the people have paid little attention to Chief of State Marshal Petain's appeal for coöperation.

The French have missed again in the proceedings against the "war guilt" leaders before a special court at Riom, the paper said, and the case has become a farce. According to this view, Paul Reynaud, former premier, and Georges Mandel, former minister for colonies, altho held in custody, live under conditions like those of a rich paying guest at a princely country house. At Riom, the editorial stated, the French might have made a thoro attempt at honesty with themselves and might have found out who "sabotaged peace after the Munich agreement."

The Strassburg paper was particularly incensed at the release from custody of the former Alsatian Jewish deputy, Saramon Grumbach, who wrote often against Germany, screamed against the Munich pact, and strongly opposed appeasement.

"Curious" Population Figure.

The editorial gave a curious figure for the present French population—33,000,000. Unless this was a misprint it would lead to speculations that foreign correspondents here are forbidden to make. At the beginning of the war the population of European France, with the island of Corsica, was about 41,000,000. If 2,500,000 Alsatians and Lorrainers are counted by the Germans as "reincorporated in the German homeland," France should still have a population of about 38,500,000.

No further annexations of French territory, either to Germany or to Italy, have been announced. But in northeast France contiguous to the Belgian border, there is today a "forbidden zone," access to which is almost impossible except for the German army. This region is one of the most heavily populated of France and the richest industrially. Part of the population speaks a Flemish dialect, and in Germany Flemish is considered a form of low German.

Skipper Tells of Planes Sinking a Ship in Convoy

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, March 30 (AP).—A sea captain said tonight German planes attacked a convoy in which his passenger ship crossed the Atlantic and sank one ship. He said there were no submarines involved and denied as "tommyrot" rumors among the passengers that four ships were sunk. An escorting warship damaged one German bomber with gunfire, he added.

250 CHICAGOLAND DRAFTEES REACH SOUTHERN CAMP

Spartanburg, S. C., March 30 [Special].—An initial contingent of 250 draftees from Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota arrived here today from Fort Sheridan, Ill., to begin 13 weeks of primary training at Camp Croft, infantry replacement center.

The men, some having been in the army only two days, were assigned to the 35th training battalion. They are part of a group of 2,000 draftees who have arrived here in the last two days, bringing the personnel of Camp Croft to 3,000.

The draftees from the midwest stepped off troop Pullmans in the cantonment area and into the mess hall to a Sunday dinner prepared in true southern style.

Fight Mobile Waterfront Fire; Hint at Sabotage

Mobile, Ala., March 30 (AP).—All Mobile firemen and fire fighting equipment tonight are fighting a stubborn blaze on the waterfront which started in the wooden wharf at the aluminum line pier. Police and sheriff's deputies were investigating the possibility of sabotage.

Two pumper trucks were brought from nearby Brookley field, U. S. army air depot, and tugboats pumped streams of water from Mobile river, on the fire.

Fire Chief Manuel Tapia said a large can containing liquid that "smelled like gasoline" was found near the scene of the fire.

Runs to Catch a Street Car; Killed by Another

Mrs. Anna Parthl, 40 years old, 2619 South Avers avenue, was killed last night when she was struck by a street car on Archer avenue at Kildare avenue. While running to catch an eastbound street car she was hit by a westbound street car. The motorman was George Pleuler, 37, of 3405 Wallace street.

Hindsight and Foresight—

Letter Tells Why Business Must Sell

Here is a letter written by one of my friends, a life insurance agent in a small city in western Pennsylvania, describing what it takes to provide good jobs and family security in America. He is writing to another businessman in his home city.

"Last week you came into my office and told me you wanted another life insurance policy.

"I wonder if you realize that you were the 34th person to do this in the 20 years I have been a life insurance agent. Not quite two a year! During this time I have made about 25,000 business calls and arranged protection for many hundreds of people.

"I have come to know intimately the problems of 400 families in this community. Over 100 of these I have followed for a full generation, and in some cases I am now arranging personal security for three generations of one family. Of all the people I know and have served, only a handful believe they have enough insurance. And yet you are only the 34th to come and ask for more!

"Life insurance is an odd kind of business. Everybody wants it, but expects it to be brought to them. Oh well, the things we manufacture here in town didn't just walk into people's homes all over America—electric pumps and clothes wringers, for example. Somebody had to show people what these things could do for them. Sometimes I wonder what this country would be like—how many people would have good jobs and good family security—if it weren't for American salesmanship.

"As you know, this city has a population of 115,000. Of these, 65,000 carry life insurance—117 million dollars' worth. It is a good manufacturing town and you had a part in making it so. It is a better-than-average insurance town and I had a part in making it so. We both know what it is going to take to make it better—honest, vigorous selling of what people need."

I LIVE IN THE CITY

I love the whole exciting roar and hum and music of the city, the gaunt sweep of the Lake, still Spring twilights, taxi-horns at night. I love people . . . few people at little parties, lots of people at the concerts, the galleries, the benefit balls. Children in the park. And the fun of shopping—endlessly—at a store like Marshall Field's, where people I've known for years help make my apartment, my clothes, my entertaining, all charm and fun. Yes, I lead an urban existence, and I love it.

If you live in the city, modestly or grandly, Marshall Field's can make your life more satisfying.

Warning to Zukor.

Orson Welles, who now is in Albuquerque, N. M., with Roger Hill, his old headmaster at the Todd school at Woodstock, Ill., had a story to tell when he was in town last week: A man approached Adolph Zukor in Hollywood and asked for a contribution to an anti-Fascist organization of some kind. Zukor hesitated.

"You needn't think that if and when the Fascists are running things they'll take people in hand in alphabetical order, Mr. Zukor," he warned.

Newsboy.

A little elderly woman boards a street car at Paulina and North avenue three times a week to go downtown to work at the Red Cross headquarters on South Michigan avenue. The newsboy at the corner stand, chatting with her as she waited for her car the other day, learned her destination.

"Please give me the pleasure of paying your carfare down today as my contribution," he said, proffering 7 cents. She took it, thanked him, and paid her fare with it.

Biblical Botany.

[After reading, in Time, that Adam and Eve fell, not thru eating an apple, but an apricot]

Do you believe [well, I do not]
That in the world's first garden plot
Adam's whole life on earth was shot,
His hope of heaven gone to pot
When Eve gave him an apricot?

On Paul Jordan.

Twenty-four year old Paul Jordan, leader of a band that has no job but that musicians like to play in, will present a program made up entirely of his own compositions tonight at the Skyline Rhythm club. He never has tried to sell his pieces, according to Downbeat, the magazine of swing.

"What has he got?" asks Downbeat. "Well, in infrequent spots it smacks of Ellington. In others of Raymond Scott, and in others of Ravel, Bach, Debussy, and Strawinsky, all in steady rhythm. But actually it's all Jordan. . . . When Paul first asked the boys around town to get together with him to play his stuff, he used three string basses. He wrote one thing called Lament to a Buffalo—wrote it especially for Mike Rubin, one of the bass men who now is with Scott. The other two bassists were Sid Blumenthal and Ralph Hancock, former Kansas City Symphony bassists now with Chi NBC. The tune, with its plodding descriptive theme, not only knocked out the three bassists who had most of the work to do in it, but thrilled the rest of the band as well.

"Jackie Hall, also with Scott now, was one of the original trumpet men. As the boys get jobs with the big guys and go on the road, there is always a line or replacements waiting to rehearse with Jordan."

Introduction.

A 76 year old grandmother, still socially and musically active, was introduced by her 6 year old granddaughter to her small companions the other day:

"This is my grandmother. She can't see very well, and she doesn't hear very well, but she has very good teeth."

Blouse-Skirt Combines Slick Spring Pickups

BY REA SEEGER.

Tricky pickups to give spring freshness to any wardrobe are priced at extremely moderate sums. These finds consist of gay colored combines of skirt and blouse top fashioned in the new off the shoulder or drop shoulder outline and the contrast of two colors. The material is a clinging jersey that is especially workable for such a clever demonstration of simplicity achieved with unusual contrast and cutting of materials.

Some of the blouse tops are all of a lighter shade than the simple skirt, some are of two different tones, such as brown and beige, black and white, and navy blue with cadet blue. These lighter colors are used for the square outline yoke and the short sleeves.

Of course, it's the old mix-match or contrast game with spring variations like the new Easter color of mauve and pink to complete the smart color range. They are outfits for immediate wear under topcoats or under fur coats. All models are easy on the budget.

Other recent arrivals to take the money of the career girls without much opposition are the snappy new convertible coats for rain or shine. The delphinium blue affairs will go out in record time for the blondes and coppertops, as this blue is the most flattering shade seen in weeks and most unusual as a shade for a raincoat.

Another convertible has a stunning blue mixture plaid worked with the beige. All have pockets, a swanky tailored outline, and price marks that are easy to take.

Smart Blouse and Skirt

WOMAN'S AND MISS' BLOUSE AND SKIRT.

That casual, tailored combination, the blouse and skirt, is being worn even to formal functions, but it is most at home as a daytime costume. School and college girls, and business women, too, wear it almost as a uniform. Today's two patterns create an especially fashionable outfit. A third pattern, No. 11207, available for 10 cents extra, makes an eagle motif for the blouse pocket.

Style No. 2903 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inch bust measurements.

Style No. 3454 is designed for 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, and 36 inch waist measurements.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Little Invalid Is in Dire Need of Wheel Chair

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

We hope some reader can supply a wheel chair for a child who is much in need of one.

He has been ill most of his life, and is now recovering from the latest of a series of operations. He is unable to stand or walk, and a wheel chair would be of great assistance.

The boy's father is a watchman, earning a small wage. His mother has a cardiac disorder which frequently confines her to bed. The child, now 11 years old, must be carried about the house, and caring for him has become a strain on his parents. A chair would enable him to have occasional trips in the fresh air and sunshine.

If any reader has a wheel chair with an adjustable foot rest, this family would be most grateful for it. The case worker will arrange transportation.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

The happiest woman we know is one who turned up the other day in a new dress, looking singularly trim, and satisfied with the world. Twelve pounds of her too, too solid flesh, all of it around the middle, had ceased to be! New measurements, new posture, new vitality—and all in the space of exactly nine exercise sessions!

She looked wonderful. Her skin was clearer, her eyes brighter, and she had none of the tired, hungry look of the foolish dieter. We wanted to skip right down the street with her to the exercise salon and get some of that same kind of remodeling.

It's inexpensive, for one thing. A woman who knows her stuff, who in fact does the exercises with you so that you do them properly and in the right tempo, has scaled her prices to fit our kind of pocketbook. She guides your eating habits if guidance is necessary and what she does with your silhouette is something to make you realize that no figure is hopeless. To be more accurate, she makes you do it for yourself—which is best. You build up your own invisible girdle of perfectly toned muscles so that you wonder why you went around with a thickened middle. You enjoy the process too.

Miss Peggy Bear's Engagement to Gifford Gardner Announced

BY JUDITH CASS.

At a luncheon at home in Evanston on Saturday Mrs. Robert Guy Bear announced the engagement of her daughter, Anna Margaret, to Livingston Gifford Gardner, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Gardner of Winnetka. The wedding tentatively is planned for next fall.

Miss Bear, who always is called Peggy, attended Connecticut college for two years and was graduated from the University of Colorado last June. She is a member of the Service club and appeared in its revue last fall. She has two sisters, Mrs. William Pope and Mrs. Eugene de Staebler, and two brothers, Robert, who is at Camp Grant, and Henry of Cincinnati. Their father was the late Mr. Bear.

Mr. Gardner attended Andover academy and was graduated from Yale last year. He is following in the footsteps of his elder brother, Henry A. Gardner Jr., in taking an Evanstonian as his bride-to-be. Mrs. Gardiner Jr. is the former Gertrude Sieber of Evanston. The brothers have two sisters, Mrs. Frederick Gleim Jr. and Miss Evelyn Gardner, a debutante of the season just past. Giff Gardner is engaged in business in Chicago.

Jere Patterson Engaged to Wed Appleton Girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean Muggleton of Appleton, Wis., yesterday announced the engagement of their daughter, Betty, to Jere Patterson, son of Mrs. Wayne Wills of Chicago. Miss Muggleton and Mr. Patterson plan to be married as soon as she returns late next month from South America, where she and Miss Mary Ann Theobald of Oconomowoc have been traveling since November.

Mr. Patterson and Miss Muggleton met at the Lawsonia club in Green Lake, Wis., several years ago and then renewed their friendship after both had finished their educations. Miss Muggleton attended Sweet Briar college. Mr. Patterson prepared at the Latin school and spent a year traveling abroad with a tutor before entering Princeton university, from which he was graduated in 1938. He then studied at the Sorbonne in Paris and was a Rhodes scholar at Magdalen college, Oxford, when the outbreak of war brought him back to Chicago. He now is engaged in business here.

The wedding probably will take place in the east, but wherever it occurs Mr. Patterson's sister, Mrs. Ralph W. Applegate, and their cousins, Mrs. Giuseppe Fantacci [Marjorie Moore] of New York and Edwin Ruthven Moore of Hinsdale, will be there, for the young people all were brought up by Mrs. Wills and are devoted to one another. After Mr. Patterson's marriage Mrs. Wills will have only one chick under her roof, another niece and ward, Subdebutante Hattie Ogden.

Billie Engel to Be Bride of Norman Westerhold.

At a tea at home in Wilmette yesterday Mr. and Mrs. William Charles Engel announced the engagement of their daughter, Billie, to Norman J. Westerhold Jr., son of Mrs. Westerhold of Evanston.

Miss Engel, who was graduated from the Roycemore school, is at home for the Easter holidays from Smith college, at which she is a senior. Mr. Westerhold attended the University of Wisconsin. He is engaged in business in Chicago.

The engagement of Miss Helen Marie Sullivan to Gerard Alan McKinley was announced at a cocktail party yesterday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boetius Henry Sullivan of Wellington avenue. Mr. McKinley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald A. McKinley of Wilmette.

Miss Sullivan studied at Pine Manor and now is a senior at Northwestern university. Mr. McKinley, who is in business in Chicago, re-

Milstein Puts Old Vigor Into Violin Recital

Nathan Milstein's violin recital in Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon was one of the big events of the musical year. A few weeks ago, when the Russian violinist played Bach's E major concerto with Hans Lange and the Chicago Symphony orchestra, he seemed to be experimenting with a strangely affected new manner of playing, marked by a sophisticated reticence that robbed his style of much of its usual directness and urgency. Yesterday he was himself again, and his playing was vigorous, powerful, and exciting.

The Brahms D minor sonata, the last of the composer's three great works for violin and piano, was presented with magnificent largeness of conception. With Artur Balsam as a superbly musical and expert collaborator at the piano, Mr. Milstein gave one of those rare and satisfying performances in which all the musical values seemed perfectly understood and perfectly related, and in which the externals of tone and technique were all that could be wished.

The familiar Vitali Chaconne, which opened the program, attained similar scope and continuity, and Mr. Milstein's great, rich, vibrant tone at the climax was nothing short of dazzling. Toward the end of the program such purely violinistic works as Suk's "Burlesque" and the Vieuxtemps fifth concerto, in A minor were, in their more external character, treated with equal skill.

Bach's E major partita for unaccompanied violin also aroused the audience to a demonstration of enthusiasm. Here, however, I must partly disagree, for while Mr. Milstein played with remarkable ease and abandon, he still has too much of the typical fiddler's approach to this music. His tempi 'and dynamics seemed to grow out of a desire to make the partita sound like a virtuoso piece—which it did. C. S.

Ballet Eschews Artiness and Achieves Art

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Ruth Page, Bentley Stone and their ballet stressed entertainment values rather than artiness in their Goodman theater program yesterday.

So far removed are these people from what might be called the post-office mural type of modern dance that during the whole afternoon not one of them was ever caught trying to represent Aspiration, Earth Mother, or Achievment. Instead, their touch was light and their imagination keen. The program was full of a very civilized kind of sophistication and it fairly bubbled over with good humor.

Not until some one persuades Edward Everett Horton to mime Daphnis and Sophie Tucker Chloë will there be a more delicious caricature of the classical ballet on an Arcadian theme than the Page-Stone "Zephyr and Flora." Net even then, perhaps, for Horton can look no more exasperated and bewildered than Stone, and Tucker might finally have to come to Page herself for instruction in that deft, reserved, immensely skilled type of insanity which lies at the very heart of this particular ballet's appeal.

Not all of the program's entertainment value sprang from this sort of dance. There was a fresh, cool new piece by Mr. Stone called "Mosaic," which asked nothing of an audience except the capacity for delight and which was danced in classical style [not caricatured] to Mozart music.

Also, there was an amusing new number entitled "Chopin in Our Time," and which offered among other things the Revolutionary Etude in swing time and the E Minor Prelude in the guise of a torch song. Its choreography, the work of Miss Page, purported to be a picture of Chicago in 1945, when all of the men will be off fighting on an unspecified front and the women will apparently be putting on floor shows for their own delectation.

Besides Miss Page and Mr. Stone the stars of the afternoon were the stately and characterful Betsy Ross and the puckish, dewy eyed Albia Kavan. Ruth Gordon played imaginative piano accompaniments.

Good Morning!

That old one about the rolling stone gathering no moss doesn't always hold water!

For the Andy Hardy series keeps a rollin' along, and this trip turns up with PLENTY of moss. Like so:

The story is one of the cleverest and most human of the lot. . . . Mickey Rooney has got completely on top of the smart aleck-ism that threatened his popularity and gives a crack performance. . . . The piece features two delightful new "finds"—Kathryn Grayson and Todd Karns, as handsome and capable a pair of young people as I've ever laid eyes on. Miss Grayson is about Deanna Durbin's age, looks a bit like Gloria Jean and [I think] can outsing either of them. Mr. Karns is tall, dark and come hither-ish. He sure IS going to bring up my mail count—["Dear Miss Tinée, could you please tell me a little about Todd Karns and, maybe, squeeze in his picture . . . ?"] Well, good luck to the two of them!

[All of which I hold is "moss."]

The story's events are contingent on a high school graduation. Andy is head of everything. Class president and general all around boss. He is, of course, expected to graduate with honors. The final English test, however, throws plenty of monkey wrenches into plenty of machinery.

Miss Grayson and Mr. Karns have a brother and sister setup. They play the talented offspring of a fine, but financially embarrassed, gentleman. They are virtually out of school social activities until Andy, at his father's instigation, makes Kathryn his private secretary, and Harry chairman of the Carvel school decorating committee. . . .

Andy's laudable efforts to fix things for the Land family have disastrous results. But behind the clouds the sun is just resting and pops out gayly for the finale.

That practically perfect Lewis Stone was never better as Andy's jurist father. . . . Ian Hunter is mighty appealing as Land. . . . Gene Reynolds has a brief, bright entrance. And all other players are on their toes.

The film has suspense and laughs, and surprises you by the way it flushes tears into your eyes when you're least expecting them.

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Diary of a Movie Correspondent

Hollywood, Cal., March 30.—Sunday—A column on the wire, and to Edgar Selwyn's for dinner, and the Samuel Goldwyns and Channing Pollock there. We all troop out back to the bungalow to visit Arch Selwyn, whose knee is still in a cast, but the doc says he'll be able to walk soon. . . . Pollock, Edgar, and Sam talk much of the theater as it used to be, and Pollock says there aren't any giants of the stage any more. Whereupon Goldwyn chirps up and says, "There's one—Orson Welles. I think he's the most important personality in the theater in my time." Sam has just seen "Citizen Kane" and is outspokenly enthusiastic about it. "We can all go to school to Welles and learn how to make movies," he says. . . . Whenever the talk swings to motion pictures and a question arises as to who produced, wrote, or acted in something, it is always Mrs. Goldwyn who knows the answer. She's a film encyclopedia.

Monday—A morning of odds and ends, an afternoon of golf at Lakeside and in the evening to see "I Wanted Wings" at Paramount. I'm struck again by one fact: That no cameraman out here ever falls down on a job. The air shots and process stuff are superb. For the sake of being classified as workers, and not artists, under the wage-hour act fotogs and technical men are pretending at a federal hearing that their jobs are routine. Maybe so, but very often their performances are less routine than the ones the actors put on.

Tuesday—To Paramount for a talk with Stirling Hayden, seagoing blond giant who first turned up in "Virginia," and find him pleasant and level-headed. He'll be 25 tomorrow and the studio has great hopes for him as a leading man—but there's the draft to consider. Stirling's number hasn't come up and if it did there might be a deferment, because he's the sole support of his mother. Having dependents cuts no ice with stars such as Ty Power, for they are figured to have been earning money long enough to have a couple of bucks in the bank, but Hayden never had any money to start with and his initial movie salary is modest. He says he'll take whatever happens as a matter of course, and if he joins up the army will have a master mariner who has sailed the world. . . . In the evening to see Wallace Beery's "The Bad Man" and it's all right but nothing more. It belongs on a stage, not the screen.

Wednesday—Lunch at Lucey's with Whitney Bolton and Dick Pollard, and Olivia de Havilland, Reginald Gardiner, Charles Boyer, and Charles Winninger are round about—all fugitives from a studio commissary and all in costume. . . . I hear that Doug Yates, Republic executive and son of Owner Herbert Yates, is resigning to join the motion picture unit of the signal corps.

Thursday—All day on the phone and laying words end to end. . . . In the evening with Richard Carroll to celebrate his Columbia contract, and we wind up at Macambo, a pleasant spot where wildly colored parrots sit on a glass walled balcony and act bored. On the floor are twosomes and a threesome of repute—Norma Shearer, Arthur Hornblow Jr., and Gene Markey, the threesome; Sy Bartlett and his pretty fiancée, Ellen Drew, the Jack Bennys, the George Murphys, and Rudy Vallee and a girl the twosomes.

Friday—A day off, and it rains, and to dinner at the W. Boltons. The John Larkins and the Dean Jaggers there. John, with "Murder Among Friends" and a new Charlie Chan to his credit in the last fortnight, is hard at it writing "The Man with the Shovel." "I hope," says Eunice Larkin, "that the sequel won't be 'The Man with the Ax.'"

Saturday—Good news comes that Warners have acquired, and James Cagney will act, the life and works of George M. Cohan. Title, "Yankee Doodle Dandee." Cohan is due in a fortnight and will supervise the production. Shooting starts in the fall, and Robert Buckner will do the script. . . . Lunch with Grant Powers, and dinner with Gregory La Cava.

Ed Wynn Never Lets You Down in His Fantastic Variety Show

'BOYS AND GIRLS TOGETHER'
Revue in two acts. Talk by Ed Wynn and Pat C. Flick. Music by Sammy Fain. Lyrics by Jack Yellen and Irving Kahal. Costumes by Irene Sharaff. Settings by Oden Waller. Choreography by Albertina Rasch. Presented by Ed Wynn in the Selwyn theater, Sunday evening, March 30, 1941.

THE PERFORMERS.

Ed Wynn, Jane Pickens, Dave Apollon, Georges and Jalna, Jerry Cooper, Marjorie Knapp, Walter Long, Sally Craven, Paul La Varre and brother, Dot and Dick Remy, Lucienne and Ashour, the Six Willys, and many others. Orchestra directed by John McManus.

BY CECIL SMITH.

Ed Wynn, whose absence of more than eight years has been too long for our own good, has put together a fantastic and enormously diverting variety show, in which he serves as master of ceremonies, interlocutor, narrator, author, actor, and general genius of madness. He is never content to remain off the stage for more than a minute or two at a time, which is quite to every one's liking, and he never returns without a different coat and a different bit of demented headgear. The constant and unchanging elements in his performance are his humor, which never fails for a split second to be outrageously funny, and his famous old shoes, patched and repatched until not a square millimeter of the original leather remains.

The show itself is strung together in hit-or-miss fashion, with Mr. Wynn apparently drawing each new performer and each new act out of a bag so capacious and inexhaustible that Dave Apollon's first and only appearance with his celebrated mandolin does not come until 10:45. Some of Mr. Wynn's associates are more than presentable, like Jane Pickens, who looks like a million dollars and sings with highly agreeable voice and style; or like Georges and Jalna who are very good ballroom dancers, if you can make sense out of ballroom dancing even at its best. There are two wonderful acrobats, by the name of Paul La Varre and brother, and the six Willys provide some high class juggling. On the other hand, there are some mediocre exponents of singing and dancing, but they are never on for long, and any way if you can just wait for a minute or two, Ed Wynn will be back to save the day.

The costumes, designed by Irene Sharaff, are wonderfully beautiful and tasteful, and it is getting to be a pleasure to see handsome costumes that are not designed by Raoul Pène du Bois. Miss Sharaff's arresting and individual designs are particularly gratefully displayed by an octet of the comeliest show girls, called for no special reason the "Cocktail Hour Girls."

The dancing chorines are a delight to the eye, too.

Albertina Rasch designed the choreography, with her familiar love for skirts that go whooshing in the outlines of an hour glass. Times have changed in the last 15 years, but don't imagine that Albertina Rasch's choreography has changed with them. For sheer uninteresting conventionality the group dances are rivaled only by Sammy Fain's score.

Now that I have told you the full truth about the cornier elements of the revue, it is only fair that I should emphasize emphatically the fact that Ed Wynn, a truly glorious zany, won't let you down, even if his collaborators sometimes do. For goodness sake don't dare to miss Ed Wynn, no matter what any one says about the rest of the show.

Flower Show Draws 40,000 Setting New Attendance Record

Forty thousand flower lovers, the largest single day's attendance in the history of the Chicago Flower show, crowded Navy pier yesterday to view the miles of flowers on display at the 15th annual exhibit. Besides visitors from Chicago and the suburbs, special buses brought groups from several nearby cities.

Every form of planting, from spring wood scene [complete with humming bird nest, dogtooth violets, and spring beauties] to ultraformal garden, is included in the show. It will continue daily from 10:30 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. thru Saturday.

Board members of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, of which the Garden Club of Illinois is a charter member, will meet at the show today and be guests at a luncheon to be given by the Illinois club.

INSTALMENT XXV.

TWO KISSES.

Sigi had shattered the atmosphere of comradeship.

Hertha, whose composure had returned, once her intelligence had accepted Don Barron's decision, looked at Sigi nervously.

"A colonel?" she asked. "A German colonel?"

"A Colonel Kolbar, who has been posted here," Sigi said with an air of indifference. But she watched Knust closely.

"I know him," the man said with his fanged grimace. "The hard old Prussian school. Wicked, but powerful."

"That's the lamb," the girl said with her most dismaying flippancy. "Don and I know him; he gave us a lift here. I knew at once he was an old darling worth cultivating."

Her bold, twisted smile rested upon Don Barron with impudent mockery. He felt Hertha regarding them both with hurt eyes. He answered evenly:

"I thought the polish of his buttons the best point of his character, you remember."

"You agreed to meet him?" Hertha found her distaste hard to conceal.

"At 'The Snow Malden,'" she giggled. "So appropriate."

"Sigi!" No mistaking Hertha's disgust. "Is this a man you have met only casually? And a Prussian?"

"The more we learn about our enemy the better equipped we are," the girl said brazenly. "Come, Knust. I want your help. I saw a frock——"

She went out with Knust, leaving behind a sense of outrage.

Looking at Twysden, Don Barron was sure that he, and no doubt the others, did not believe that she had their safety in mind. Her motive was something wanton, something incorrigible, if not worse.

Twysden was sure it was worse. He could not get over his suspicions of her. He was linking this colonel and Otto Schmarz and Puttaemus in one sure plot to trap them. The way that Twysden gave a little shrug of fatality, and pointedly walked across to sit by Darmal, showed that he washed his hands of the matter from now on.

So had Paul Darmal. He had settled back in his chair with a blankly inscrutable expression. His detachment was transcendental. He had completely resigned himself to his fate.

Hertha was perturbed and restless. After a moment or so of indecision, she rose and went from the room. Don Barron followed her. He found her on the landing, hesitating about going up to Sigi's room. She gave him a wan smile, put her hand on his arm, murmured:

"Don, what a lot of sturdy sense you give one," and then, as if that gave her strength: "I must talk to her; must still try . . . Wait for me in the room downstairs, dear."

It was half an hour before she joined him. There were signs of stress in her face.

"Alone, Don. I'm glad." Her hand went out to him in appeal, and in a moment she was in his arms, her soft cheek against his, her hands clutching his shoulders. Her lips brushed across his cheek as he turned his to her. "Don, my dear. How glad I am it's you."

Their kiss seemed to waken and to steady her. The lips so warm, so generous, flamed to a passion one would not have guessed was in a nature so reticent. Then they grew timid at this first surrender, fluttered for release. She drew back, her face burning, it seemed, with some interior radiance.

"Don—my dear. I didn't want this—yet," she sighed. "Not until we had finished what we have to do. It doesn't seem right—such happiness, when grandfather is in danger . . . and Sigi . . ."

Her hands fell from his shoulders in a little resigned gesture. She stood away. She took pride in the way Don Barron let her go.

"How understanding you are, Don. How strong—I am a very lucky woman." Her head inclined a little listening for sounds beyond the door. "But now—there are so many things to think of, to do."

"Now we do them together," he smiled at her. She was, he thought, wonderful, every movement, every shade of emotion—perfect.

"I wish we could," she sighed. "But I have failed so long in some things——"

"Sigi?"

"O, Don, yes," it came with a rush. "I can't do anything with her. She won't listen."

"She's determined to meet this colonel?"

"She's going now. I don't know what to do—I feel so responsible for her. She's so fine in so many ways. In others—I can do nothing."

"I can scarcely hope to do more, my dear."

"I think you can, Don. She has respect for you. I know she has. She listens to you—I've watched her. She knows what you really are underneath . . ."

"Aren't you making her see me thru your own eyes, my dear?" he asked. "If she has made up her mind to meet this colonel, I see nothing stopping her. Nor much harm, really."

"But Don, she couldn't . . . not now. It's too—too cynical." She caught her breath, hearing some one on the stairs. "And too dangerous, for us, and for her, too. I know, I've heard . . . I oughtn't to say it of her, even to you, Don, but—but we can't take risks at this point. . . ."

He understood what she meant. She feared, perhaps even knew, there might be treachery thru Sigi. He said flatly:

"She's out there, isn't she? I'll do my best."

He walked casually thru the sitting room door. Sigi was already in the hall. She was giving herself a final survey in the mirror of the big coat stand. He caught a flash of brilliant impudence from the made-up face in the glass.

She turned and faced him. She seemed like a flame against the dark background of the coats, and he wondered how she had managed to get such a costume at short notice.

"About to play the heavy father, Don?" she asked coolly. "Or the lightweight stepbrother?"

There was an edge of bitterness in her voice, but the hardiness of its insolence shocked him. He fumbled his opening, and she jeered.

"Say your piece pretty, Don. I don't want any one to feel you didn't try."

He knew that was a taunt at Hertha, waiting back in the room. It stiffened him. He let her have it. She heard him without interruption, even the sardonic twist softened away from her lips as he ended.

"Not bad, Don," she smiled bleakly; "there's genuine stuff in you."

But that wasn't surrender. Immediately afterward she was saying:

"And good night, my dear. You did try—but prodigal granddaughters are worse than sons. Do you open the door for this one or does she go out into the night unaided and alone?"

Even that last sentence was a trick, a mischievous trick. For as he opened the door she flung her arm about his shoulders, dragged his face to hers, and harshly, squarely kissed him on the lips.

Then she was gone into the night.

He returned a little shamefaced to Hertha, but she was in no condition to notice it.

"I know—I know," she sighed as he reported failure. "Perhaps I should not have asked you, Don, she has never listened to anybody. . . . But, as things are, I felt so desperate."

"She's always been like this?" he asked.

"Always." The very tone of her voice told what she had to endure from Sigi's caprices.

"Just born to kick over the traces?"

"I suppose so—some people are temperamentally rebels. They can't really help themselves. I'm sure Sigi can't. And in a way I can't blame her. She was always so vital, so quick, so young. Life at home must have seemed very stodgy to her."

"You, I take it, were just as vital and quick—and even younger," he said. "And you managed to bear up."

"But I'm different. I'm naturally quiet. The unadventurous type. The home bird," she smiled. "I was always perfectly happy and satisfied with things as they were—excitements don't really appeal to me."

"And because of that the responsibilities were shoved onto your shoulders."

"But I didn't mind. I liked it. Grandfather and I get on so well together."

GASOLINE ALLEY—THE SNOOPER

Rye Bread Is Welcome as a Menu Variant

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Because most Americans have learned to like light textured bread, the white loaf is by far most popular. Rye bread is far down on the list, but almost all of us like it once in a while, particularly if it's a homemade rye bread, newly from the oven.

Usually some white flour is used in rye bread for the sake of improving the texture.

Rye Bread.

[Two 9 inch round loaves.]

1 cake yeast
3¼ cups lukewarm water
2 tablespoons molasses
1½ tablespoons salt
1 teaspoon caraway seed
2¼ quarts rye wheat flour [9 cups]

Dissolve yeast in ¼ cup water. Add remaining warm water, molasses, salt, and caraway seed. Add enough flour to make a fairly stiff dough. Knead dough on a lightly floured board until smooth and elastic. Round it up into a ball, place in a greased bowl, and cover. Let rise about 2 hours in a warm place, or until the bulk has doubled. Plunge hand into dough and fold it over from sides to center, reducing it to its original bulk. Let rise for half an hour longer. Punch down, knead slightly, and shape into loaves. A single long loaf may be made if desired. Place in greased pans and let rise until light. Pierce dough every inch or two with the tip of a sharp knife. Moisten loaves with water. Bake at 425 degrees for 40-60 minutes. If loaves start to crack in the oven, brush over with water.

A much sweeter, orange flavored rye bread is made from the following recipe:

Swedish Rye Bread.

[3 loaves.]

8 medium potatoes, boiled and mashed
1 tablespoon salt
1½ cups molasses
½ tablespoons shortening
1 cup lukewarm water
2 cakes yeast
6 cups rye flour
Grated peel and juice of 1 orange
White flour to make a soft dough

Boil potatoes in water to cover, and save water. Add mashed potatoes to potato water. Add salt, molasses and melted shortening. Add sufficient water to make a quart of ingredients. Cool to lukewarm and add yeast dissolved in lukewarm water. Add rye flour, orange juice and rind. Beat batter until smooth. Cover and let rise overnight. Add enough white flour to handle, and knead on a lightly floured board until smooth and elastic. Let rise in a greased bowl until doubled in bulk. Shape into three loaves and place in oiled pans. Let rise until light, and bake at 400 degrees for about an hour.

Monday, March 31.

An excellent day for putting your best laid plans to test; a day for both thought and action. Start early and keep going. If it doesn't work now, consider revamping your plan. Not much use waiting for a better time to come later.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead, if born on this date, is ambitious for power, yet ideas, mental unfoldment, will be real gain. Money trends from old to new, should be done slowly, sensibly. Danger: July 4-22; and Oct. 1-30.

Tomorrow.

Keep on with the good work; very strong in evening.

Coming Exhibit Stirs Interest in French Art

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

The coming French exhibition of art to be held at the Art institute is arousing fresh interest in the subject of 19th century French painting.

This evening there will be a round table discussion of French art at the Hyde Park Art center, 1500 East 57th street. The following speakers will take part: Miss Clara MacGowan, associate professor of art at Northwestern university; Miss Kathleen Blackshear of the school of art at the Art institute; G. Haydn Huntley, assistant professor of art at the University of Chicago, and Dr. Ulrich Mittdledorf, chairman of the art department of the same school.

The Chicago Society of Etchers invites the public to its 31st annual exhibition of the work of members. The show will be at the Roullier Art galleries from April 1 to April 30.

The South Side Community Art center, 3831 South Michigan avenue, will open an exhibition of prints by Honoré Daumier and George Rouault, lent by the Art institute, on Wednesday to continue thru the month. It will include 36 lithographs by Daumier and 17 color prints by Rouault.

On Friday the Arts club is opening for its members two new shows, one by Martha Walter and the other by Henri Laurens. Beginning the next day the galleries will be open to the public.

On Saturday evening at 8 the Association of Chicago Painters and Sculptors is holding a preview reception of the show by members, a yearly event. The next day the exhibition will be open to the public and will end on April 26.

The Austin, Oak Park, and River Forest Art league is exhibiting paintings by six artists this month at the Woman's University club of Chicago. Visitors are welcome. The exhibitors are James Eccles, Andrew Dobos, Richard Epperly, Marie Lilliston, Catherine Lewis, and Averil Conwell.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Many rubber bridge players are contemptuous of duplicate bridge, maintaining that the problems peculiar to duplicate are not really problems at all, but are merely questions of hair-splitting and quibbling. They point with derision to the fact that at duplicate a declarer often jeopardizes a game contract for a measly overtrick in his quest for a good match point score.

There is a certain degree of logic in the above contention. Note the terrific dilemma a declarer would be in if he were to play the following hand at match point duplicate.

South, dealer.

NORTH
♠ J 5 3 2
♥ J 9
♦ A J 10 9 5

WEST
♠ 10
♥ K Q 8 7 3
♦ 8 6 4 3
♣ J 5 4

EAST.
♠ K Q 9 8
♥ 10 5 4 2
♦ K Q 7 2
♣ 7

SOUTH.
♠ A 7 6 4
♥ A 6
♦ None
♣ A Q 10 9 6 3 2

Actually, this hand occurred in a rubber bridge game and the bidding went:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 diamond	Pass
2 clubs	Pass	3 diamonds	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the heart king, declarer won, led to the club king, and discarded his remaining heart on the diamond ace. Declarer then led a spade to the ace, and after both opponents followed, was perfectly satisfied to rattle off club tricks and leave the three outstanding trumps to make separately or together. The opponents could take only those three trumps and declarer was pleased enough with assurance of game.

Put this same hand into a duplicate contest and I venture to say that terrible things would happen to many South players. The bidding undoubtedly would be the same, as would the opening lead and the first few plays on declarer's part. But after discarding the losing heart on dummy's diamond ace and leading the spade to the ace, there would be an almost irresistible temptation to lead a second round of spades, thereby trying for an extra trick.

Most declarers in a duplicate game would consider it suicidal to leave the opponents with three trumps [the K Q 9] which might well make separately if declarer were to ignore the trump situation and confine himself to running the clubs. They would realize the danger of a second trump lead, but they probably would risk that danger inasmuch as a 3-2 trump break would insure an extra trick and a good match point score.

But what a calamity would follow the lead of a second trump by declarer. East would draw every trump and the opponents then would take the rest of the tricks with diamonds and hearts. In short, declarer would go down six tricks.

Universal Day—Make all the pieces dovetail—no loose ends allowed.

April—April is bound to an important period for the world. Important decisions made this month will have far-reaching effect for some time to come. The spirit of independence will flourish and men will talk about the fight about their individual freedom. There will be a decided rallying around to the cause of liberty. There will be a renewal of courage and a more aggressive attitude taken by all the nations. Those who can back up this challenge will, of course, fare the best. The gestures this month must be followed up with decisive action. Vacillation will cost dearly.

65 ALIEN SHIPS SEIZED BY U. S. OVER SABOTAGE

Italian vessels were supplied by Harry Sommers, acting deputy chief of the Newark, N. J., fire department, who accompanied coast guard officers on an inspection.

"They must have spent at least a week smashing machinery," he said. "Acetylene torches were used to cut pistons. Generators were chopped and hacked with axes. Bearings were unbolted and chisels used to put them beyond repair."

Propeller Shaft Cut.

"On the San Leonardo the propeller shaft was cut by an acetylene torch.

"On the Alberta, holes were bored in the bottoms of the boilers, making it impossible for them to hold water. On the other four ships water was drained from the boilers and then the fires were lit, fusing and melting the tubes."

A small valise found on one of the ships created a flurry of excitement. It contained an instrument that ticked and was turned over to the Newark police for examination. The police took it to the Jersey meadows, fired 30 machine gun bullets into it and then upon opening it learned it contained only an alarm clock and some clothing.

United States marines, armed with bayonet rifles, and coast guardsmen with automatics strapped to their thighs, seized the four Italian ships anchored in the Delaware river.

A squadron of a dozen coast guard boats, most of them bristling with light cannon and machine guns, had been mobilized during the night and proceeded from points as far distant as Cape May, N. J.

At 8:40 a. m. the vessels swung alongside the S. S. Mar Glauco, Antionetta, and Santarosa at Gloucester, N. J., and the S. S. Belvidere at Philadelphia. There was no resistance.

Total 300,000 Tons.

The 65 ships seized—Italian, German, and Danish—totaled approximately 300,000 tons. The 28 Italian and 2 German vessels totaled 178,030 tons. The New York maritime register listed 35 Danish ships in United States ports. Total tonnage for 33 of them was given by Lloyd's register as 110,550.

GOVERNMENT SEIZED NO VESSELS IN 1917 UNTIL WAR STARTED

New York, March 30 [Special].—Altho seizure of German ships in United States ports was urged by former President Theodore Roosevelt, Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard, and others before the entry of this country into the world war on April 6, 1917, no action was taken until some time after the war declaration.

Before being seized by this government 109 German vessels were reported to have been damaged by their crews under orders from German authority as early as Feb. 1, 1917.

Altho federal authorities were aware that the disabling of the German craft was being carried out, they considered the possible effect of seizure in precipitating hostilities. It was said that this country had only police power to prevent damage in ports.

All of the ships damaged by their German crews in American ports were restored and put in service, adding more than 500,000 gross tons to the transport and cargo fleet of this country.

LAW AUTHORITIES GIVE VIEWS ON SEIZURE OF SHIPS

Three authorities on international law expressed the following views last night on the seizure of axis merchant vessels by the United States government:

Prof. Quincy Wright, University of Chicago—"The ship seizures are obviously under the principle of law that a state may take any needed action in its own protection—something like the exercise of the right of eminent domain. If the ships were in danger of sabotage the seizure was right and proper. If the question of compensation ever comes up it would be decided on the basis of the reason for the action. The seizure is certainly not an act of war."

Prof. Max Rheinstein, University of Chicago—"Of course, the old international law no longer exists. A precedent may have been set, but there is no question the government has the right to take over the ships."

Prof. Kenneth W. Colegrove, Northwestern university—"In the first place, the seizures were justified. In the second place, they were legal under the law of angary, a rule that gives a sovereign nation permission to take over the shipping of another nation in an emergency and to pay for the ships if they were wrongfully seized. No act of war was committed in the seizures."

Webster's dictionary defines angary as "a right of a belligerent in case of necessity to seize and use or destroy property of neutrals, especially to take over the use of neutral ships. This right was revived during the world war."

ACT OF WAR, SAYS ITALIAN.

Portland, Ore., March 30 (AP).—Capt. Giovanni Polonio of the Italian motorship Leme tonight called the United States government's seizure of his vessel an act of war.

As coast guardsmen took the officers and crew to jail, Capt. Polonio told newsmen that "war likely will come" as result of the seizure.

Capt. Polonio admitted his men had damaged the ship because "she was going to be seized by your country." He shrugged when asked who gave the order to damage it.

Act Under Which U. S. Seized Ships

Washington, D. C., March 30 [Special].—Robert E. Gaston, acting secretary of the treasury, tonight called attention to acts of sabotage committed on 20 of the 28 Italian ships taken into custody, in justification of the government's action. He said some of the ships had become a menace to the safety of harbors. The treasury had acted within the confines of the espionage act of June 15, 1917.

Section 1 of title 2 of this act reads:

"Whenever the President, by proclamation or executive order, declares a national emergency to exist by reason of actual or threatened war, insurrection or invasion or disturbance or threatened disturbance of the national relations of the United States the secretary of the treasury may make, subject to the approval of the President, rules and regulations governing the anchorage and movement of any vessel, foreign or domestic, in the territorial waters of the United States, may inspect such vessel at any time, place guards thereon and if necessary in his opinion, in order to secure such vessels from damage or injury or to prevent damage or injury to any harbor or waters of the United States or to secure the observance of the rights and obligations of the United States, may take, by and with the consent of the President, for such purposes, full possession and control of such vessels and remove therefrom the officers and crew thereof and all other persons not specially authorized by him to go or remain aboard thereof."

Another clause applies the act to the Canal Zone.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

The Blackhawks made the good fight last night, as rough a fight as any one would want to see, but the Red Wings made the goals. So today it is Detroit which prepares to go into the finals of the Stanley cup playoffs, triumphant over the Chicagoans, 2 to 1, on Gus Giesebrecht's goal in the ninth minute of overtime.

When Syd Hows skated around the Blackhawks' defense and pulled Goalie Sammy Lo Presti out of the cage on a save there remained only the flick of a stick for Giesebrecht to eliminate the Chicagoans from the series—a best out of three set, which opened in Detroit Thursday with a 3 to 1 victory for the Red Wings.

Script Follows That of 1938.

Crippled and in the playoffs by dint of a rousing fifth place finish in the regular National Hockey league season, the Hawks had hoped to repeat their spectacular rise to world supremacy. The stage was set. Until last night the script had followed in detail that 1938 performance, even unto some odd decisions by President Frank Calder, a Canadian gentleman who definitly is not the Chicagoans' best friend.

The bullying tactics which had carried them thru their first playoff series against the Montreal Canadiens, however, had little effect on a Detroit team which slashed back spiritedly. After a scoreless first period, in which there was everything except good hockey, the Wings took advantage of a Blackhawk penalty to go ahead in 1:25 of the second period.

Bentley Ties It Up.

Howe passed out from a corner of the rink to Carl Liscombe. Liscombe, standing just inside the blue line in front of the Wings' bench, leveled a sizzling shot at Lo Presti. En route it tipped the end of Alex Motter's stick and caromed into the cage. Motter got credit for the goal, and Howe and Liscombe were credited with assists.

Less than three minutes later, when Detroit was a man short, Doug Bentley took a long pass from Mush March and, also standing just inside the blue line, rifled the puck into the corner of the net, helped a bit by Mariucci, who had ensnarled traffic in front of Goalie Johnny Mowers.

Little for Hawk Fans to Cheer.

Thereafter the 16,516 in the Stadium had little real opportunity to cheer their heroes, altho the Hawks tried valiantly to prevent overtime play with repeated rushes in the scoreless third period. Mowers made two spectacular stops in the overtime, one on Red MacKay, the wing who played center as a fill-in for the injured Bill Thoms and another on Cully Dahlstrom in a fierce melée in front of the net. But these were the only occasions on which he was extended by a Hawk team that missed several excellent chances to win in regulation time.

Battered Bruins Leave for Sixth Toronto Game

Boston, Mass., March 30 (AP).—The battered Boston Bruins, trailing by three games to two in their Stanley cup hockey playoffs with the Toronto Maple Leafs, left today for Toronto where they will engage the Leafs in the sixth game of the best out of seven series Tuesday night. The Bruins again will be without the services of Bill Cowley, the league's high scoring star, and Bobby Bauer, both out with injuries. A Boston victory Tuesday night will return the teams here for the deciding game Thursday night.

CHICAGO FIVE SCORES 8 POINTS IN EXTRA PERIOD

Brings Loyola Meet to Rousing Finish.

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

Leo's Lions have their National Catholic prep basketball championship, but it required another whirlwind finish to bring the title to the south side. As the crowd of 3,500 in Loyola gymnasium howled and screamed, the Chicagoans last night turned back the challenge of a pesky band of Sioux Indians from St. Francis Mission on the plains of South Dakota, 49 to 41, in the first overtime championship contest in the history of the meet.

Henry [Babe] Baranowski, who on Saturday night scored a field goal in the last 20 seconds to give Leo a 28 to 27 victory over Central Catholic of Fort Wayne, Ind., was cast again in a hero's role against the Indians, who amazed the crowd with long shots and fancy passing. Baranowski, short, stocky guard, scored eight field goals.

During the first half the Indians appeared on their way to the title, enjoying a 10 to 5 lead at the end of first quarter and a 24 to 15 advantage at the half. However, the Chicagoans began their belated drive in the third period, but the Indians still led at its conclusion, 28 to 26.

Indians Rush Into Lead.

The Lions continued their barrage of baskets in the fourth period and with only two minutes to go had a five point lead. At this juncture, Ben Tibbitts, the Indians' long range tosser, sparked a rally that gave the Dakotans a 41 to 41 tie when the game ended and made Leo go out and win it all over again.

The Indians' hopes of winning faded in the three minute overtime session. Jimmy Farrell raced down the court and flipped in a basket to put Leo ahead and Baranowski scored a short shot. Bob Baggott assured the Chicago Catholic league of its first national title since 1937 when he made good on two shots from under the basket.

The Indians went on the warpath early in the first period. Two successive fouls by Bob Baggott gave the lads from Dakota the opportunity to pick up three points, Gus Little making good on his two attempts and Ben Tibbitts being successful in his lone shot. Then Calvin Valandra and Jesse Claremont each made a basket and the Indians led, 7 to 0.

At the fourth minute of the opening period, Frank Kelly injured his ankle and was replaced by Jimmy O'Halloran. Three straight fouls, two by Gus Little and the other by Vincent Brewer gave Leo scoring chances. Jim Farrell made his two free tosses and Bill Lundy added a point. Baggott missed on his free throw, but Babe Baranowski sank a field goal. Valandra scored again and Farrell missed a free threw as the quarter ended, with St. Francis leading 10 to 5.

The Lions Move Up.

The Indians continued their brilliant work in the second period and in the first four minutes held a lead of 20 to 7. Valandra's basket was followed by Claremont's two goals and one each by Tibbitts and Little. In the meantime only Jack Dunne scored a field goal for Leo. Baranowski scored, but Brewer and Valandra added baskets for the Indians. In the final minutes of the quarter O'Halloran, Baranowski, and Creighton each scored and the half ended with the Indians leading 24 to 15.

Creighton of Leo scored three baskets in the first five minutes of the third quarter. Farrell hit a short one, Valandra scored to put the Indians ahead, 26 to 23. Farrell of Leo made a free throw and Creighton added another basket to tie the score, but a minute later Tibbitts put the Indians ahead again, 28 to 26.

Indians Rally Near Finish.

Baranowski and Tibbits traded baskets as the fourth period opened, Kelly added a field goal and then made good on one of two free throws. Brewer of the Indians scored a half minute later and Baranowski followed with another basket, but Tibbitts scored and tied up the game again, 33 to 33.

With two and one-half minutes to play, Leo led, 40 to 35. After Creighton made a free throw for Leo, Tibbitts and Claremont scored from the field and Brewer made two free throws, tying the score, 41 to 41. The regulation game ended with Creighton missing a free throw.

Messmer of Milwaukee defeated Central of Fort Wayne for third place, 44 to 38. This game was followed by the championship contest.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

THIS is an important anniversary in the sports departments of American newspapers. . . . It was 10 years ago today that a plane crash in Kansas robbed sport of its most illustrious figure—Knute Rockne of Notre Dame. . . . It is a tribute to the impress he made on our national life that 10 years after his death his name is as fresh as the day he died. . . . Even in athletics where fame is extravagantly bestowed and inexactly computed the gifts of Rockne endure. . . . He took football and fashioned it into a highly dramatic spectacle. . . . He took the open game and opened it wider. . . . He took the shift and made it shiftier. . . . He took the tricks and made them trickier. . . . For 10 years football has been looking in vain for another Rockne. . . . Nobody has even come close. For 10 years football has been looking for a leader, a man who could and would defend it against the attacks of reformers. . . . None has come forth. . . . For 10 years sports banquet tables have been looking for a raconteur as entertaining as Rockne. . . . They'll have to continue the quest. . . . Rockne fought his way to the top amid the most glittering array of names intercollegiate football has produced. . . . He earned gridiron immortality at a time when men like Yost of Michigan, Zuppke of Illinois, Warner of Stanford, and Stagg of Chicago were at their height. . . . Only a genius could stand out in a field like that. . . . Those were names that created new systems for old, that blazed pioneering paths thru established routines—and Rockne led the parade. . . . From coast to coast college teams are playing Rockne football. . . . This is his legacy to the game he esteemed so genuinly. . . . Never since intercollegiate football came out of its swaddling clothes has it needed a Rockne so badly. . . .

Walter Paulison, Northwestern university's sports publicity director, is writing a history of Wildcat athletics. . . . He's been working on the job two months and is still in the 1880's. . . . The fact that Beans Reardon is the new dean of National league umpires has taken an unfortunate turn. . . . He is going around acting as master of ceremonies at banquets. . . . Stan Hack is the rhumba champion of the Cubs, if not the major leagues. . . . He and the Missus know all the steps and are expected to take on castanets any time now as they enlarge their Spanish répetroire. . . . Fritz Crisler is thinking of shifting Mervin Pregulman, Michigan's outstanding freshman prospect last fall, from center to some other line position. . . . Bob Ingalls, who will be a senior next fall, is a better than average center and Pregulman is too good to warm the bench. . . . Bartenders in Joe DiMaggio's Grotto in San Francisco know all the answers when it comes to the batting, fielding, and the rest of the DiMaggio brothers' averages. . . . They have to, the questions are endless.

As Spring Returns.

Regardless of the tragedies
That men have wrought today,
They can't prevent return of spring,
No matter what they say.

The trees will burst in leaf again,
Despite the hate and greed;
And birds will sing, the flowers bloom
While wounded soldiers bleed.

The leaders gloat of victories,
Becoming mad with power,
And still these men cannot quench
A soothing April shower.

While battles rage and streets are strewn
With battered souls of men,
Somehow we find a trace of hope
As spring returns again.

CUBS WIN, 8 TO 2; NOVIKOFF HURT HITTING HOMER

Pirates Drop 5th Straight to Chicagoans.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 30.—Lou Novikoff, the Cubs' Russian strong boy, pulled a charley horse today, but the injury was not in vain. Lou hurt himself in effecting a two run homer in the first inning of the Cubs-Pirates game, thus affording his team a rushing start toward an eventual 8 to 2 victory, the Cubs' fifth in as many spring meetings against Pittsburgh.

Novikoff limped off to the clubhouse after scoring behind Stan Hack, who had walked. It is doubtful if he will play in any of the three remaining exhibition games in California.

The game, played before the largest crowd of the exhibition season other than the all-star game on March 9, was a personal triumph for Charley Root, who held the Pirates to three hits in six innings and walked only one. Besides Ol' Pappy knocked a homer off Russ Bauers in the second inning for what technically was the winning run. Paul [Swede] Erickson pitched the last three innings and held the Pirates to two hits.

Cubs Pound Bauers.

The Cubs made six runs and six hits off Bauers in five innings, but were chilled off by a lefty from Zeelandia, Sask., named Al Wilkie, late of Seattle. He gave up only one single in three innings. The Cubs made their other two runs on three hits in the ninth off Bill Clemensen, a recruit from Syracuse.

The Cubs' superfluous runs, the ones scored after those produced by the Novikoff and Root homers, came in the fourth, fifth, and ninth innings. Two were made in the fourth on an error, Lou Stringer's double and another error; one in the fifth resulted from Phil Cavarretta's double and Augie Galan's single, and the ninth inning scores came after two were out on Bill Nicholson's single, Galan's double, and Bill Herman's single.

Root Retires 11 in Row.

Root retired the first 11 Pirates who faced him, six of them on infield plays. His perfection string was halted after two were out in the fourth inning when Arky Vaughan singled and reached third on Elbie Fletcher's double. Maurice Van Ro-

White Sox End 4 Game Losing Streak; Whip San Diego, 8 to 3

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Diego, Cal., March 30.—After dropping four straight decisions, the White Sox revived themselves today to prove that their training efforts haven't been in vain. James Dykes' hitters, who were at fault while the barnstorming beatings were piling up in distressing fashion, got their eyes back on the ball as pitched by a pair of Coast league pitchers and the result was an 8 to 3 success over San Diego. The count brought the Sox back to a 50-50 percentage in the 16 preseason engagements now played.

The Padres had the satisfaction of accomplishing what the Cubs, the Pirates, and the Hollywood Coast leaguers weren't able to do against the pitching of 40 year old Ted Lyons. San Diego shattered the scoreless string Ted had assembled this spring while the Louisiana bachelor was going thru a five inning assignment this afternoon. The Padres clipped him for five hits, good for three runs, but thereafter were docile under the right handing of Rookie Jack Hallett.

White Sox Get 15 Hits.

The Sox not only piled up 15 hits against Bill Thomas and Del Oliver, but made the assault doubly emphatic by giving an extra base touch to their effort.

Dario Lodigiani continued to keep Bob Kennedy in the rôle of a forgotten third baseman by hitting a triple. Taft Wright also featured with a three bagger. Joe Kuhel and Luke Appling notched doubles, not to mention a pair of singles apiece. The only other item longer than a single was a two bagger by Dave Short, one of the numerous rookies who broke into the game after the sixth inning.

The Sox started the scoring in the second inning when Appling doubled and trotted home on a single by Mike Kreevich. Lyons held this slim edge until after retiring the first two men in the home half. He slipped up on a pass to Jensen, who was nudged to third on a two bagger slammed into right by McDonald. The two Padres scored when Pellagrini singled to center.

Sox Get the Range.

Wright turned loose an extra base tap in the fourth and this simplified the erasure of San Diego's one run lead. Appling led off with a single and sprinted to the plate on Wright's triple against the left center field fence. Wright scored later on Kreevich's long fly.

The major leaguers plastered Thomas for another pair of runs in the fifth. Lodigiani tripled to left center and counted on George Dickey's single. A single by Kuhel sent Dickey to third, whence he counted on Moose Solters' fly. The Padres recovered one of these runs in their half of the inning when Mazzera hoisted one of Lyons' pitches over the right field barrier.

Oliver got by without much trouble in the sixth, his first inning of work, but was victimized for three safeties in the seventh, two scoring. With

HOUSTON WHIPS YANKEES, 4-3, ON BONER BY DICKEY

Houston, Tex., March 30 (AP).—The New York Yankees walked off the field with only two out in the ninth inning today and let a runner score from first base to give Houston a 4 to 3 victory. What happened was this: With New York leading, 3 to 2, two out and a runner on second, Murtaugh grounded to Phil Rizzuto. His throw to Joe Gordon at first was wide and Gordon relayed the throw home to catch the runner sliding. The runner missed the plate and Catcher Bill Dickey missed the runner, but he put the ball in his pocket and started to the dugout with his teammates following. Meantime the runner not only tagged the plate, but Murtaugh came all the way around the bases and scored. Score:

New York [A.L.]	000	012	000	3	8	2
Houston	000	000	022	4	11	0

Batteries—Branch, Brewer, and Rosar, Dickey; Pollet, Wilks, Martin, and Narron, Marshall, Heath.

JURGES STARS FOR GIANTS.

Miami, Fla., March 30 (AP).—Shortstop Billy Jurges returned to the New York Giants' lineup today for the first time since he collapsed from a dizzy spell in Havana March 2, and looked like his old self as the Giants trimmed the Washington Senators, 7 to 4. He played five innings and handled seven fielding chances skillfully before turning the job over to Mickey Witek, who hit a triple with the bases full in the eighth for the margin of victory. Score:

Washington	101	100	001	4	9	2
New York [N.L.]	210	000	04*	7	11	3

Batteries—Masterson, Anderson and Ferrell; Melton, Dean and Hartnett.

BEN HOGAN'S 284 TAKES LAND OF SKY TOURNAMENT

Asheville, N. C., March 30 (AP).—Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., today shot a two under par 69 on his last round to win the $5,000 Land of the Sky Open golf tournament for the second straight year with a 72 hole score of 284, two better than Lawson Little.

Hogan, leader at 18 and 36 holes, was beaten nine strokes by Little's third round 66, but Ben, who added $1,200 to the winnings which already had put him at the head of the 1941 cash return list, was superb on his final round, while Little, missing short putts right and left, soared 10 shots to a 75 for 286.

CLARK SWEARS IN COMMISSION MEMBERS TODAY

First Act Is New Conn, Barlund Contract.

This is the day Sheldon Clark, millionaire Chicago oil magnate, who has been a minority member of the Illinois boxing commission since 1938, will take office as chairman, replacing Joe Triner.

As a holdover member of the commission Clark will administer the oath of office to his new associates, Maj. Gen. Roy D. Keehn of Chicago and Harry R. Scranton of Peoria.

Scranton was appointed by Gov. Dwight Green last Tuesday, along with Gen. Keehn and Clark.

Scranton Played Football.

Scranton, present chairman of the Republican central committee of Peoria county, was county auditor for 20 years prior to his resignation in 1936.

After being graduated from Bradley Polytechnic institute, Scranton played professional football and baseball for the Peoria Social Athletic club until 1906. Altho he never has done any boxing, he promoted fights and wrestling bouts in Peoria from 1916 to 1926. He was president of the Peoria Fans' association from 1931 to 1937, inclusive.

Elder Goes to Work.

Jack Elder, former Notre Dame football and track star, who has been athletic director of the Catholic Youth organization for several years, also will officially take active charge of his new duties as secretary for the board.

The commission's first official act today will be to supervise the signing of new contracts by Billy Conn and Gunnar Barlund for a bout in Chicago Stadium Friday.

Due to a mixup Conn's old agreement specified the contest would be for 15 rounds and Barlund's document stipulated 10 rounds. After wrangling over the matter several days the managers compromised on 12 rounds.

bays gummed up the Pittsburgh scoring project by striking out.

Root's only pass grew into the run he surrendered. Vince DiMaggio got the pass at the start of the fifth, went to third on Frankie Gustine's single, and scored while Joe Schultz was forcing Gustine. Debs Garms batted for Bauers and forced Schultz, and Bob Elliott flied to Nicholson. In the sixth inning Root rounded out his stint in one, two, three order.

Erickson started the seventh by pitching a homer to Van Robays after a two and two count. Then DiMaggio fanned, Gustined rolled to Russell, and Schultz flied to Augie Galan. Swede walked the first two batsmen in the eighth, then Handley and Vaughan sent up infield flies and Fletcher fanned.

Hack made a great stop to get Van Robays at the start of the ninth. DiMaggio walked and was forced on a phenomenal play by Stringer. Schultz beat out a single to deep short and when Stringer threw past Herman Gustine reached third and Schultz second. Rip Collins batted for Clemensen and walked, loading the bases. Elliott then ran the count to three balls and two strikes, then took a third strike to end the game.

The Cubs will wind up their exhibition series with the Pirates in San Bernardino tomorrow.

ANNUNCIATION WINS CYO SENIOR CROWN, 43 TO 32

Champions in three divisions of the Catholic Youth Organization Basketball league were crowned yesterday in games played before 5,000 fans in the 132d Regiment armory. Annunciation won the senior title by defeating St. Columbanus, 43 to 32, in a second half rally. St. Sylvester took the junior crown with a 26 to 23 victory over Blessed Sacrament and St. Basil clinched grammar school honors with a 17 to 16 verdict over St. Mary's Training school.

Annunciation was given a battle thru the first half by St. Columbanus which led at the intermission, 19 to 17. Altho St. Columbanus managed to check Jimmy Hoffman, the champions' leading scorer, it had trouble with Irwin Zeismer and George Ruch, who led the second half attack. Zeismer scored seven baskets and Ruch made four and a free throw for the winners.

Warren Summers, with six baskets and two free throws led the way in St. Sylvester's victory in the junior division.

WOODRING KEEPS RIFLE TITLE WITH A PERFECT SCORE

William B. Woodring's perfect score of 2,400 and 193 shots in the Central x-ring of the target won the Alton, Ill., ace his second straight individual grand aggregate title in the University of Chicago's sixth annual midwest rifle tournament which ended early today in the Midway fieldhouse. No other marksman—and the field included many of the nation's best—was able to meet the score which Woodring made for the second straight year in defending the title he won in 1940.

Dudley Steen of Maywood missed a single shot to place second behind Woodring in the aggregate standing with 2,399 and 181 x-ring shots. Mrs. John Cole of Minneapolis ranked third in the meet and highest among a group of women shooters with 2,398 and 167 ring shots, and Emory Hawcock of Monmouth, Ill., finished fourth with 2,397 and 168.

Ossie Harris Boxes Bolden in Marigold

Ossie Harris, Pittsburgh middleweight, who has enjoyed better than average success during a 15 month campaign, will make his Chicago debut in a 10 round bout against Nate Bolden in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, tonight.

The stocky Pennsylvanian, who will be 23 years old Friday, has been nicknamed Bulldog because of his aggressive, hard fighting tactics. This style is popular with fans, but it may be Ossie's undoing against a counter puncher such as Bolden.

Bolden, acting more like a title contender than he ever has before, is undefeated since last Nov. 1 when he lost a disputed decision to George Burnette in Detroit. Since then he has participated in five matches, winning all except a return contest with Burnette, which was called a draw. His victims were Henry Cmielewski, Tony Cisco, Saverio Turiello, and Billy Pryor.

One of Harris' best achievements is a conquest of Johnny Barbara last Dec. 2, after Barbara had scored a victory over Fritzie Zivic. Harris had Barbara down for a nine count in the second round. Supporting matches:

Bob Berry vs. Frank McBride [8], 170.
Al Reese vs. Johnny Trotter [4], 175.
Jimmy Pierce vs. Frank Jamieson [4], 160.
George Feltes vs. Bob Berger [4], 160.

Bronko Nagurski, former Chicago Bears full back, will wrestle Oki Shikina in the windup bout of a mat card this evening in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. Rudy Kay is matched with Charley [Gorilla] Grubmyer, Tuffy Cleet with Pete Schu, Frankie Hill with Jack Reeder, and Bill Canny with Walter Palmer.

. . . Billy Marquart, Winnipeg, Man., lightweight, left yesterday for New York where he boxes Lenny Mancini tomorrow.

CYO AND BBYO ALL-STAR FIVES CLASH TONIGHT

The fourth annual all-star basketball game between the Catholic Youth Organization and the B'nai B'rith Youth Organization will be played tonight in the 132d Infantry armory, 2653 Madison street. The squads were chosen from more than 5,000 participants in the CYO and BBYO tournaments.

The CYO will enter the game with a record of three successive triumphs over the BBYO.

SALEM, TRINITY GAIN WALTHER LEAGUE FINAL

Salem of Blue Island and Trinity of Herscher will play for the senior championship of the Walther church basketball league Saturday night at Concordia college.

Salem defeated Grace of Chicago, 33 to 24 and Trinity won from Messiah of Chicago, 39 to 35 in semifinal games last night.

All-Slav Basketball Title Retained by Gary

Gary, Ind., March 30 (AP).—St. Sava of Gary won its second straight national All-Slav basketball title tonight, defeating Croatian Fraternal union, Weirton, W. Va., 52 to 41, in the finals. The Polish National Alliance of Chicago won third place, 39 to 24, over Slovak Catholic Sokol of Rossford, O.

Wells Wins Evanston Club Trap Shoot Title

A. S. Wells Jr. won the club trapshooting championship by breaking 192 clay birds yesterday afternoon at the Evanston Golf gun club. Wells was awarded the Raymond trophy, emblematic of the championship. Mayor George Blaumeuser of Skokie captured high gun honors with a 98.

RULE CHANGED ON BASKETBALL SUBSTITUTION

Kansas City, Mo., March 30 (AP).—Basketball rule makers voted today to permit substitutions after a field goal is scored, but turned down a suggestion that a player ejected for four personal fouls be permitted to reenter the contest if an overtime is needed.

Standardization of equipment was discussed with indications the fan shaped backboards will be recommended as official.

H. V. Porter of Chicago, secretary of the rules committee, said questionnaires were sent out and that 1,445 responses were received from coaches, officials, and athletic directors favoring the fanstyled targets. Votes of disapproval were received from 305. Porter said he expected definite action by his 17-man committee before the session ends tomorrow.

The rule to permit substitution without a time out being charged after a field goal follows by one year the rule which allows a new player to enter the game after a free throw is scored.

Losses Upset Dykes; Pitchers Due for a Jolt

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Diego, Cal., March 30.—James Dykes, the boss of the White Sox, announced today that he is preparing a speech. There's nothing unusual about that, for the manager's jaws seldom enjoy a rest. This, however, is going to be an exceptional piece of oratory. He has promised it will be ready for delivery in the Hollywood ball park Tuesday, prior to the sixth engagement of the spring series with the Cubs.

Dykes is angry to the marrow of his bones. He has been seething inside, gradually working himself up to the exploding point now scheduled for the above mentioned date. He's indignant about the fashion in which his charges have been shuffling off ball games by seeming indifference. He hasn't said much to them thus far, because he wanted to pile up ammunition for a devastating blast.

His Supreme Effort.

"This is going to be my supreme effort," declared Dykes today when newspaper men found him sitting in solitary grandeur in the local clubhouse. "Don't ask me what I am going to say and don't think any of you are going to be invited. It's going to be a party exclusively for ball players, and when I finish some of them are likely to doubt they are players. I am not going to speak in generalities. I am going to name names. When the meeting breaks up there will be more than a few red necks in the place."

Dykes is especially annoyed about some of his pitchers. The services of a sleuth are not necessary to discover the moundsmen he has in mind for the choicest bits of his prospective tongue-lashing are Eddie Smith, Thornton Lee, Bill Dietrich, and John Rigney.

Smith Isn't Ace High.

Smith today received a fairly broad hint that he doesn't stand ace high with his boss. Within the hearing of the manager, Smith remarked, "O, there's a circus in town. Guess I'll have to go."

"Why should you go to a circus? You've been playing in one for several days," bellowed Dykes.

After unburdening himself of his plans for his speech, Dykes revealed he also has other ideas. He believes he may be able to get Benny McCoy from the Athletics at the waiver price. If successful he will convert the infielder into a fly chaser.

McCoy is the lad who after being freed from the Tigers in Commissioner K. M. Landis' ruling was paid $40,000 by Connie Mack and given a two year contract at $10,000 a year.

TERRY SAYS HE SPURNED 3 WAY DEAL WITH CUBS

Miami, Fla., March 30 (AP).—Manager Bill Terry of the New York Giants revealed today that he had turned down a proposed three-cornered trade with the Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers.

Larry MacPhail, president of the Dodgers, now is in California attempting to negotiate a deal for Second Baseman Billy Herman of the Cubs. The proposition that was offered the Giants would have given them Second Baseman Pete Coscarart of the Dodgers and Hank Leiber, holdout outfielder of the Cubs. Chicago would have taken Catcher Outfielder Hank Danning from the Giants and Brooklyn would have obtained Herman.

Terry said he was not trying to peddle Danning and that if any club expected to get him it would have to bid high.

Heafner and Dodson Complete Masters' Field

Asheville, N. C., March 30 (AP).—Clayton Heafner of Linville, N. C., and little Leonard Dodson of Kansas City were named tonight to fill the two vacancies in the field for the Augusta Masters' golf tournament which starts at the Augusta National Golf club Thursday.

A Shepherd Wins Honors in Obedience

Baron Karlo V. Westholtz, a big German shepherd dog, owned by C. A. Koerner, 7905 Cressett drive, Elmwood Park, won first place in the utility obedience class as the International Kennel club dog show ended last night in the International amphitheater.

This dog, a member of the winning German shepherd team in THE TRIBUNE'S team competition Saturday night, has won companion dog, companion dog excellent, and utility dog titles, and is considered one of the best trained shepherds in the United States.

Welsh Terrier Second.

Second in the class was Harlow Saxon, a Welsh terrier owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Lowenbach of Glenview, Ill. A Dobermann-Pinscher, Col. V. Starkenhart, C. D. X., owned by George Harpham, 5839 Elmore drive, Parma Heights, O., was placed third, and Duke of Schroth Valley, C. D. X., a Dobermann-Pinscher owned by Harry G. Schmit, 3772 North Clark street, Chicago, won fourth place.

A bloodhound from the east, a rare breed in obedience work, won top honors in the novice B class. This well trained hound, named Giralda's Dinah, and owned by the Giralda's Farms, Madison, N. J., also is a bench champion. Tiger of Pontchartrain, a Dobermann-Pinscher owned and trained by Willy Necker, Wheeling, Ill., won second place honors.

All of the obedience classes in the International Kennel club show were sponsored by THE TRIBUNE. Charles G. Hopton, noted dog show judge, who was the master of ceremonies during the final judging program, reminded spectators last night that the obedience classes in this show had set a new American record in entries with 122 dogs competing in the various classes.

Big Bulldog Named Best in Dog Show

BY BOB BECKER.

(Picture on back page.)

Kamel White Knight, a massive bulldog owned R. P. Sparks of Toronto, last night was selected as the best of the 1,433 dogs entered in the International Kennel club dog show in the International amphitheater.

Sparks, former president of the Canadian Kennel club, handled his own dog from one of the bulldog classes thru best of breed, best of the nonsporting group, and finally to best in show as the climax of the largest dog event ever held in Chicago.

In winning last night the Canadian accomplished an objective which he barely missed last year when he piloted another bulldog to the final event only to lose to Champion Maro of Maridor, English setter. Maro was one of his victims in last night's show.

Tough Job for Judge.

Judge George S. Thomas of South Hamilton, Mass., faced a difficult assignment in choosing the outstanding dog of the show. All of the semi-finalists which had come thru two days of critical judging were top flight dogs with imposing records of victories in previous shows.

Besides Kamel White Knight the nationally known dogs which came into the finals for the coveted best in show award were:

1. Champion Penhill Perfect of Harham, Welsh terrier, owned by Harold M. Florsheim, Chicago. This trim little terrier with perfect ring manners has been a consistent winner in the last two years.

2. Champion Maro of Maridor, the English setter which won last year's International Kennel club show. Maro is the property of Prune's Own Kennels, Tuxedo Park, N. Y., owned jointly by Mrs. Priscilla St. George Duke and her mother, Mrs. George B. St. George. This orange Belton setter won 12 shows during 1940 and was designated by the American Kennel club as the best sporting dog of 1939.

Brought from England.

3. Champion Che Le of Matsons Catawba, Pekingese owned by Mrs. James M. Austin, Old Westbury, Long Island, N. Y. This red Peke holds the American record for toy dogs in bench competition, having won nine shows, 55 groups, and 57 best of breed in the last 17 months.

4. Champion Giralda's Cornishman, tan and white greyhound owned by Mrs. M. Hartley Dodge, president of the Morris and Essex Kennel club and owner of the famous Giralda Kennels at Madison, N. J. McClure Halley, manager of Mrs. Dodge's kennels and handler of her dogs in the ring, brought Cornishman from England as a puppy two years ago along with the famous Dobermann-Pinscher, Champion Ferry von Rauhfelsen of Giralda.

5. Champion Thora von Bern of Giralda, 6 year old German shepherd, also owned by Mrs. Dodge and handled by McClure Halley, winner of the working dog group. This sensational bench winner has a record of more than 50 best of breed victories, 25 group awards, and has been selected as the best dog in eight all-breed shows.

Trumpet Best of Foxhounds.

Best of breed American foxhound was Trumpet, owned by the Wayne-Du Page Hunt and bred by Col. R. R. McCormick on The Tribune farm at Wheaton.

WALLACE URGES NEW WORLD UNITY FOR DEMOCRACY

Freedom Periled by Nazis, B'nai B'rith Told.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The nations of the western hemisphere must band together to maintain the sacred essence of democracy and religion, Vice President Henry A. Wallace said last night in a speech before the 16th national triennial convention of B'nai B'rith.

The address, which was made in the Civic Opera house, was rebroadcast in Spanish to Latin American nations. Wallace warned South and Central American nations that Nazis could control some of those republics within a year if England loses the war.

He branded demagogues and "plutagogues" enemies of democracy—describing the latter as minorities who try to loot the federal treasury or to obtain unfair grants of governmental power for their own purposes.

Wallace Calls for Tolerance.

"Most demagogues and plutagogues appeal to the sacred name of social justice and in so doing defile it," Wallace said. "The emphasis of constitutional democracy, which I trust will embrace the whole hemisphere, must be on education and toleration."

He described the core of both democracy and religion as being respect for the dignity of man "no matter whether he be Japanese or American; Scotch or German; English or Negro; Italian or Indian; Catholic, Jew, or Protestant. The most deadly of all sins is for a majority group to look down on, despise, and persecute a minority group."

Zionist Predicts Federation.

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist organization, predicted a federation of the great Arab countries with an autonomous Jewish commonwealth in Palestine.

In a speech before the convention luncheon in the Drake hotel Dr. Weizmann said half a million Jews in Palestine "stand sentinel at the entrance to the Suez canal" and would die in defense of that frontier.

"We must begin to think now of the victory of the democracies," he said, "because without such a victory there is no hope, not only for our people but for all mankind. At the end of this war the statesmen of the world will have to cope with the problems of the world. To us their solution implies an opportunity to build our own homeland untrammeled."

OAK PARK SALOON ISSUE ENLIVENS DRIVE FOR VOTES

Thirty Townships Will Go to Polls Tomorrow.

Flashes of intense rivalry are expected to bring out a heavy vote tomorrow in some of the 30 townships and seven municipalities of Cook county where officials will be elected for the next four years. Commissioners will be elected in 35 park districts thruout the county.

Oak Park, largest village in America, was enlivened yesterday by a fight by the Business Men's party to overcome the handicap of having been ruled off the ballot. The Oak Park election board sustained technical objections to this party's nominating petitions.

Triner Target of Attack.

Difficulties of a "write-in" campaign were tackled vigorously yesterday. Approximately 100 citizens made door-to-door rounds with campaign literature which they dealt out of shopping bags lettered: "Keep Saloons Out."

Their attack was directed mainly against Joseph Triner, a recent member of the state boxing commission, and candidate for one of six places on the board of trustees. They said Triner, as president of the American Wholesale Liquor Dealers' association, would lead a drive to change Oak Park's dry status.

Louis Gibson, who has been township justice and village judge, is the Business Men's candidate for village president. The rival Civic Welfare slate, now unopposed on the ballot, is headed by Robert F. McMaster, a broker.

Evanston Has Heated Contest.

Another hot fight is the contest in Evanston between Mayor Henry D. Penfield and City Treasurer S. G. Ingraham. Former Mayor Charles H. Bartlett, who was defeated by Penfield in 1937 by 911 votes, died recently but most of his followers have flocked to support Ingraham in the mayoral race. Former Chief of Police William O. Freeman has been active in this group.

The Sabbath quiet was preserved there, however, except for one meeting in the 5th ward attended by Ingraham, whose illness during part of the campaign is causing him to speed up his talks in the last few days. City Clerk Edward W. Bell, who is up for reëlection, and Thomas F. Airth, candidate for city treasurer, are unopposed. Three of the eight aldermanic seats are uncontested.

In River Forest two complete tickets under the banners of the Non-Partisan Coalition party and the Taxpayers' Economy party have been filed. President John L. Brink is opposed by Irwin P. Rieger of the latter organization.

Regular Parties in Berwyn.

Berwyn's contestants are running under the regular Democratic and Republican labels, with Mayor Anton Janura, a Democrat, opposed by Ald. Edward O. Holly for reëlection. City Clerk Emil Vacin, a Democrat, is opposed by Carl L. Anderson, former dean of boys at Morton High school.

Cicero has a three cornered fight for mayor. The candidates are Mayor Joseph Danek, Democrat; Jerry F. Juston, Republican, and M. T. Lewicki, Better Government party entry.

In Winnetka and Glencoe there are unopposed slates of candidates selected under the caucus system of government.

Few real battles appear in prospect in the township elections of supervisor, clerk, assessor, collector, highway commissioner, justices of the peace, and constables. In New Trier township the New Trier Citizens' league, which has elected its candidates for 25 years, is facing one of the hardest fights in recent history. Three almost complete tickets have been filed there and in Norwood Park township.

Other Township Contests.

Other townships having contests are Berwyn, Bloom, Bremen, Cicero, Elk Grove, Evanston, Lemont, Leyden, Lyons, Maine, Niles, Northfield, Orland, Palos, Proviso, Rich, River Forest, Riverside, Stickney, Thornton, and Wheeling.

There are no contests in Barrington, Calumet, Hanover, Palatine, Schaumberg, and Worth townships.

Commissioners will be elected in the following park districts in Cook county: Arlington Heights, Barrington, Berwyn, Blue Island, Calumet Memorial, Chicago Heights, Clyde [Cicero], Crawford [Lincolnwood], Des Plaines, Dolton, First [Evanston], Flossmoor, Forest Park, Glencoe, Glenview, Hawthorne [Cicero], Ivanhoe [Riverdale], Kenilworth, La Grange, Maine, Memorial [Bellwood], Niles Center [Skokie], Northbrook, Northeast [Evanston], Oak Park, Park Ridge, Rich [Flossmoor], Ridgeville [Evanston], Riverdale, River Forest, Veterans [Melrose Park], West Maywood, Western Springs, Wilmette, and Winnetka.

Many other villages will have elections April 15, among them Summit, Stickney, Morton Grove, Elmwood Park, and Skokie [Niles Center]. School district elections will be held April 5 and April 12.

POLICE CANVASS CHICAGO AREA IN MIXUP OF DRUGS

Police began a canvass of all wholesale and retail drug stores, doctors' offices, and hospitals in Chicago and suburban areas yesterday in an effort to locate packages of a contaminated drug used in the treatment of pneumonia.

Federal food and drug inspectors are investigating the deaths of a man in Farmington, Mo., and a 19 month old child in East St. Louis, Ill., in connection with the distribution of a contaminated shipment of the new drug, sulfathiazole, which accidentally became mixed with phenobarbital, a sedative which in large doses can cause death. The tablets were bottled by the Winthrop Chemical company of New York City.

River Forest and Evanston police completed the canvass yesterday and said no packages of the contaminated drug were found. Policeman D. L. Peterson reported that most druggists in Evanston had read of the mistake and had examined their stock of sulfathiazole.

BOY, 5, KILLED BY CAR DRIVEN BY GIRL OF 18

Patrick Pallanti, 5 years old, 1448 Frichrout street, Whiting, Ind., was killed yesterday when he was struck by an automobile in front of the home of his uncle, Julius Pallanti, 10655 Hoxie avenue, whom the boy was visiting. The driver of the car was Catherine Paganini, 18, of 10532 Hoxie avenue. She and her brother, Ben, who was riding with her, took the boy to the South Chicago hospital, but he was dead when they arrived.

Miss Opal Soderberg, 19 years old, 1020 East 62d street, died in South Chicago hospital of injuries incurred Saturday in a street car and auto crash at 118th street and Avenue O. Two other persons were killed and 10 injured in the accident. The driver of the car was Stephen Pinkoczi, 18, of 8809 Buffalo avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 197 persons had been killed in auto accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 148 died in Chicago, where 5,103 were injured in the same period.

PLANE MAKING FACILITIES GAIN 28% IN 60 DAYS

Employment Shows Big Increase.

New York, March 30 (AP).—Col. John H. Jouett, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, said today that the aircraft industry in the United States has increased its war plane productive facilities 28 per cent between Jan. 1 and March 1.

Col. John H. Jouett.

Col. Jouett, former army pilot who serves as spokesman for the aircraft industry, said that during this period 27,261 new shop workers were hired to bring the total of those employed in aeronautical engine and propeller plants to 173,076. Most of the new men were placed in training by the factories.

Auto Firm Figures Excluded.

He said the statistics did not cover airplane manufacturing by the American automobile industry which is building engines and subassemblies under license and subcontracting agreements with the aircraft manufacturers.

Productive floor space was increased from 18,782,879 to 24,122,230 square feet during the two months, he said. Total floor space of the industry as of March 1, including engineering and clerical, was 31,383,967 square feet. Total personnel, including executive, accounting, engineering, and research, as well as shop employés, was 226,172.

Unfilled Orders by Companies.

REPORT MEXICO PLANS TO PAY ON FOREIGN DEBTS

MEXICO CITY, March 30 (AP).—A reliable source reported tonight Finance Minister Eduardo Suarez had worked out a plan with New York banks and bondholders' committees for refinancing Mexico's 800 million dollar foreign debt. Suarez will outline the plan to President Avila Camacho in the next few days, it was said.

The chief executive was reported anxious to bolster Mexico's credit position by resuming payments on defaulted dollar obligations. There was no indication, however, what his reaction to Suarez's proposals would be.

FIND HIGH GRADE TUNGSTEN ORE DEPOSIT IN IDAHO

Washington, D. C., March 30 (AP).—Discovery of a high-grade deposit of tungsten ore in Valley county, Idaho, was announced today by the bureau of mines and geological survey. Tungsten is a vital armament material.

Altho maximum dimensions of the deposit had not been determined, the two agencies reported that their information indicated the discovery may be of great importance.

The yellow pine district is well known for its antimonial gold ores, but this was the first find of tungsten ore there.

Coal Deadlock Is Unbroken; Expect Strike

New York, March 30 [Special].—A stoppage of work at midnight tomorrow of all soft coal mines in the Appalachian region, employing 330,000 men and producing 75 per cent of the nation's bituminous coal output, appeared likely today. The deadlock in the 13 days' negotiations for a new agreement between the operators and the United Mine Workers of America [CIO], remained unbroken.

Preparations for the stoppage were seen in the announcement made jointly by Ezra Van Horn, president of the Appalachian wage conference and spokesman for the operators, and John L. Lewis, miners' chieftain, that the union has agreed to permit maintenance men to remain at work to prevent flooding of the mines after the last shift quits work tomorrow.

Reject Retroaction Plan.

The miners have offered to continue working on condition that any increases ultimately obtained be retroactive as affecting all men to April 1. The operators have rejected the proposal.

Lewis indicated tonight that hope of an agreement tomorrow was "faint" and that if no agreement is reached the mines would be closed in accordance with the practice of the United Mine Workers not to work without a contract.

Principal stumbling block to an agreement is the union's demand for a flat increase of $1 a day in the present basic wage of $6 in the north and $5.60 in the south, and the removal of differentials between various districts. The union has also demanded a guarantee of 200 days of work in the year, vacations with pay, and various readjustments in working conditions.

SITUATION IN ILLINOIS

Illinois coal mines are facing a shutdown that may last several weeks unless the government intervenes successfully, spokesmen for the mine owners and miners said yesterday. About 25,000 members of the United Mine Workers of America in Illinois face idleness.

Ray Edmundson, president of district 12 of the U. M. W. A., said the shutdown will be effective tomorrow when a wage contract expires, but as that is a miners' holiday the stoppage of work will actually begin Wednesday.

M. F. Peltier, president of the Illinois Coal Operators' association, said the cessation of work cannot be called a lockout. He said the association is powerless to prevent the action because it cannot agree to the miners' demand that any agreement on a new wage scale be retroactive to April 1. Mines cannot operate meanwhile on a basis of not knowing what their costs are to be, he said.

Stocks of coal in Illinois are reported large and industry will feel no pinch unless the tieup is prolonged.

MONTH'S INCOME PAYMENTS 10 PCT. ABOVE YEAR AGO

Washington, D. C., March 30 [Special].—Income payments to individuals in February totaled $6,150,000,000, about 10 per cent more than the total distributed during February, 1940, Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones reported today. The payments were seasonally lower than the revised January total of $6,525,000,000.

The trend of income continues "definitely upward," Jones said. The index of income payments, corrected for seasonal fluctuations, advanced from 96.6 [1929—100] in January to 96.8 in February. The February index represents an annual rate of income flow of $79,500,000,000, compared with a total of $74,000,000,000 for the year 1940.

TAX SWALLOWS PROFIT GAIN ON RECORD SALES

Life Savers Corp. Nets $1,016,876.

Altho last year's sales of the Life Savers corporation, manufacturer of candy confections, were the largest since the start of the business 27 years ago, and operating profits rose 14.7 per cent over the 1939 level, "new and added taxes took all of this and more," stockholders were informed yesterday.

"United States and Canadian income, war, and excess profits taxes were $434,831, which was 90.8 per cent more than in 1939," Oscar T. Kappes, president, said in his annual report. "In addition, $108,758 was paid in direct taxes to various federal, state, and local taxing authorities.

"Our tax total of $543,589 was equal to $1.55 a share and did not include various sales, use, excise, license, processing, and other indirect taxes."

Year's Profit Lower.

The result was that the company's 1940 net profits fell to $1,016,876, equal to $2.90 a share, from $1,024,927, or $2.92 a share earned in 1939. Sales totaled $4,809,497, up 12.2 per cent from 1939, and operating profits $1,451,889, also a new peak.

Kappes said that an increase in inventories was "primarily the result of large stocks of sugar bought at approximately the lowest prices available in the last two years. Supplies of other essential raw materials also have been built up where shipment and receipt from abroad might be subject to the risks of war." The company's main plant is at Port Chester, N. Y.

Acme Steel's Sales Rising.

Acme Steel company's sales are running substantially in excess of those of 1940, R. H. Norton, chairman of the board, and C. S. Traer, president, told stockholders in the pamphlet report.

Net earnings in 1940 amounted to $2,110,432, or $6.43 a share. Preliminary figures published about two months ago showed the year's earnings at $2,127,444, or $6.48 a share. In 1939, net profit was $1,908,609, or $5.82 a share.

Sales rose 19 per cent to a total of $20,690,302. The tax total climbed from $429,302 in 1939 to $1,401,136.

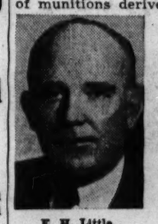
Price Runup in Munitions Item Unlikely

Glycerin, an important ingredient of munitions derived from the manufacture of soap, is not expected to reach the high prices paid during the world war, E. H. Little, president of the Colgate - Palmolive - Peet company, said yesterday.



E. H. Little.

"Present munitions manufacturing methods do not require any such quantities of glycerin [as during the earlier war] and no comparable rise in price is anticipated," he said in his annual report.

Excludes European Profits.

Because of the war, the company's 1940 report excluded earnings accruing to it from English and continental European subsidiaries, and listed net income of $4,044,760, or $1.72 a share. Adjusted on the same basis, the 1939 net income was $5,455,319, or $2.14 a share, contrasted with $6,632,655, or $2.74 a share, shown in the 1939 report issued a year ago and including all subsidiaries.

The 1940 statement showed that dividend income of $1,138,670 from the English and continental European subsidiaries were still operating, crease the company's reserves for contingencies, which totaled $2,784,692 at the close of the year.

Foreign Units Operating.

Little reported that all of the European subsidiaries were still operating altho many were subject to severe governmental regulations. In some countries production of regular branded merchandise had been prohibited and unbranded merchandise made in accordance with government prescribed formulas had been substituted.

The company has suffered no physical damage or material loss of property with the exception of damages to its London offices and toilet article manufacturing plant which were bombed, Little said.

MORE RECORDS ESTABLISHED IN STEEL INDUSTRY

Cleveland, O., March 30 (AP).—Several departments of the steel industry continue to establish records in production, sales, and shipments, the magazine Steel said today.

"On line pipe for oil and gas new all-time high totals have piled up, with emphasis on long lines in the 100 mile class and with large diameters, involving large steel tonnages," the review said. "Sales of casings are the largest since March, 1937."

PRICE CEILING IS PLACED OVER ZINC MARKETS

Steel and Iron Next to Be 'Stabilized.'

Washington, D. C., March 30 [Special].—Maximum prices for zinc scrap and secondary slab zinc were announced today by Leon Henderson, director of the price stabilization division of the national defense advisory commission. He disclosed that establishment of maximum prices for iron and steel scrap was imminent, and that the copper and brass markets may be "stabilized."

Today's was the third price schedule issued, the two previous ones having fixed top prices for second hand machine tools, aluminum scrap, and secondary aluminum ingot.

Henderson said that prices for secondary slab zinc and of zinc scrap materials have risen excessively.

Leads to "Hoarding."

He declared that such prices were not required to drain out supplies of zinc scrap. On the contrary, he said, they tempted owners of zinc scrap to hold it for a rise and build up a speculative demand, resulting in inflationary prices.

Maximum prices for secondary slab zinc in carload lots have been established on an f. o. b. East St. Louis basis, Henderson explained. For example, if secondary slab zinc of prime western grade is sold and delivered in carload lots to a buyer in New York, the maximum price that may be charged, regardless of where the seller is located, is 7.25 cents plus freight from East St. Louis to the buyer's customary rail receiving point in New York.

Scrap Zinc Maximums.

Top prices for various classes of scrap zince ranged from 4.25 cents a pound, f. o. b. point of shipment, on old die cast scrap, to 6.75 cents, delivered at buyer's plant, on new zinc clippings.

The order requires that complete and accurate records of every purchase and sale of zinc scrap materials and secondary slab zinc be kept and the "price schedule will be fully enforced," Henderson said.

MILLERS NATIONAL.

What is the relationship between the Illinois Fire Insurance company and Millers National Insurance company? What is the financial position of the latter?—H. D.

Answer: Millers National Insurance company, Chicago, acquired control of the Illinois Fire Insurance company in 1939. Both companies write fire, automobile, inland marine, and related forms of insurance.

The company's financial position is strong. At the end of 1940 it had $1,240,394 in cash and $2,823,648 in government bonds, which together more than covered reported liabilities of $4,000,141. Financial statistics of the company in recent years compared as follows:

	Assets.	Surplus.	Premiums written.
1936	$6,225,000	$2,818,000	$3,097,000
1937	6,368,000	2,587,000	3,521,000
1938	6,684,000	2,797,000	3,296,000
1939	7,014,000	2,766,000	3,608,000
1940	7,207,000	2,532,000	3,921,000

Millers National has operated since 1865. The company derived its name from its underwriting activities in the milling industry.

QUICKSILVER.

Are there any quicksilver producers whose stocks are held publicly? I am interested in buying some shares of a large company producing the metal. What is the condition of the industry and to what uses is the metal put?—L. H. R.

Answer: Shares of the major producers of quicksilver or mercury are closely held and there is no public market for the stocks. The industry is concentrated in California and Oregon. Annual quicksilver production in this country from 1937 thru 1939 averaged 17,500 flasks of 76 pounds each. Better prices last year encouraged accelerated activity which doubled output.

Mercury has various commercial uses in the manufacture of drugs, mirrors, and other products, but the recent expanded demand for the metal has come from the munitions industry, which requires fulminate of mercury for detonators.

FORESIGHT FOUNDATION.

What is the Foresight Foundation?—K. M.

Answer: Foresight Foundation, Inc., Wilmington, Del., is a small investment company. It was organized in 1934 as successor to the Pennsylvania Investing company.
